HYDE TO OUST MILLERMeeting Planned in Next Few Days to Discuss Action
Against Police Commissioner.

Jerome F. Duggan, chairman of the City Executive Committee of the American Legion, announced today that he would call a special meeting of legion members and their friends in the next few days to protest against alleged utterances of Victor J. Miller, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, to the effect that 70 per cent of the criminals were former soldiers, and to demand that Gov. Hyde request Miller's resignation as a public official. The Women's Auxiliary of the legion will meet this evening to discuss Miller's remarks.

The Veterans' Council of St. Louis, composed of men who served in the last and previous wars, met yesterday and dispatched a telegram to members of the State Executive Committee of the legion requesting them to hold mass meetings this week and demand Miller's resignation of the Governor.

Resolution Suggested.
The telegram embodied the text of a resolution that it is suggested be adopted, in which it is set forth that Miller made the following statement in a recent speech:

"Fully 70 per cent of the criminals today are former service men. Not because they are former service men, but because overseas they saw robbery and murder legalized, which is all war is, anyway."

The resolution sets forth that Miller's remarks constituted an affront to more than 100,000 men of Missouri who served in the war and placed a blamable stigma upon all mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and wives. Miller's alleged statement is further denounced in resolution as "a blasphemous and every service man within the State of Missouri and the country as a whole."

Miller Says He Defended Men.
When apprised of the action against him, Miller said the legion men ought to consider the full text of his speech, which was made Monday before the East St. Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce, before passing judgment on his remarks. He said he defended the former service men throughout his talk and intended no reflection upon them. Miller is a former service man, having served as an instructor in the Central Field Artillery Officers' training camp, at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky.

When asked for a formal written statement of his remarks, Miller said he did not recall exactly what he had said, but that he intended to give the impression that the war was not a cause of crime, but that the reason that 70 per cent of crime was committed by ex-service men was because most crime is committed by young, unmarried men, who, if they were not in the army, ought to have been. Then he wrote the following statement:

"My statement concerning ex-service men committing crimes was meant as a defense of them, not as criticism, and if enemies choose to misinterpret it, I cannot help it."

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Samuel L. Thompson, counsel to the Lockwood Legislative Committee Investigating Unions, announced today he had requested the convening of an extraordinary grand jury to consider evidence against officials of the Electrical Workers' Union, No. 3, including commission of grand larceny and conspiracy to extort money from nonunion workers.

Testimony was to the effect that the extortions amounted to $25,000 a year.

on Limitation of Fortifications.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The four-power agreement being considered by the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, it was learned today from official American sources, would be an agreement for joint consultation on any matters affecting interests of those nations in the Pacific Islands and not an alliance or technical one.

The agreement is in process of being reduced to treaty form, it was said, and, if accepted, is to be submitted to the Senate.

The proposed undertaking is designed to do away with the Anglo-Japanese alliance and proposals have gone to Japan for renunciation of that alliance if the new agreement should be consummated.

As now under negotiation the agreement is to be limited to the Pacific Islands. Under the tentative proposals each of the Powers would agree to consult each other before going to war on any differences that might arise relating to those islands.

The agreement, American officials said, would not deal with fortifications in the Pacific nor with questions relating to the Island of Yap, neither would it deal with any matters affecting China, but only those relating to the islands of the Pacific.

The questions at issue between the United States and Japan relating to cable facilities and other matters affecting the Island of Yap are to be dealt with in a separate treaty, which was said to be near completion.

The proposed four-power agreement to deal with the Pacific Islands is said to have already been given approval in principle by British representatives at the Washington conference. The substance of the proposed treaty also, it was said, has been called to Tokyo and Paris. The formal responses of the British, Japanese and French Governments still remain to be received, however.

A British spokesman today, explaining in some detail the position of his Government, commented on various published reports which have been circulating behind the scenes of the conference.

"For instance," he said, "it was suggested that the proposals have been taken some distance. This is not the case. The three or four Powers, as the case may be, all interested in a certain area, might seek to make some arrangements for mutual discussion in regard to these matters with a view to avoiding differences. This would not involve anything in the nature of guarantees."

He added that in the discussion which took place last week between the three statesmen, Hughes, Balfour and Kato, certain suggestions were formulated and telegraphed to London and Tokyo and answers are now being awaited."

It was also declared that these proposals had nothing whatever to do with China; in fact, they had to do rather with the situation on the sea. The intimation was that the project concerns the islands of the Pacific as well as any maritime issues that might arise and perhaps was broad enough to involve even the question of naval rivalry.

Further details of the plan which resulted from the meeting between Hughes, Balfour and Baron Kato were not revealed. However, from the guarded replies made by the British spokesman to inquiries on

ACCOUNTANT IS INDICTED; $27,500

of Embezzlement After In-

Company's Records.

Herbert C. Camien, 29 years old, of 2203 Lawrence street, president of the accounting firm of Geraldine-Fink-Camien, Inc., was arrested today in the company's office, a luxuriously furnished seven-room suite in the Compton Building at Seventh and Locust streets. The arrest followed his indictment by the grand jury yesterday, on five counts charging grand larceny and embezzlement of $2813.82.

The charges result from work done by Camien, between February and October of this year, in installing and operating a system of bookkeeping for the Yahlem Motor Co., large dealers in secondhand automobiles, at 1035-37 North Grand avenue. Members of the Yahlem firm say discrepancies amounting to $25,703.14 have been discovered, through work done since Oct. 1 by another accounting firm upon the books. Only comparatively small sums are named in the counts of the indictment.

Hired to Install System.
Charles H. Yahlem, president of the Yahlem firm, told a Post-Dispatch reporter, before he testified before the grand jury, how he had employed Camien to install and conduct an accounting system, in the hope of straightening out the growing business affairs of the concern, and how the sequel has been greater confusion and apparent heavy losses, the amount of which another accounting firm has lately been figuring out.

Yahlem was a dentist, and his present business associates, N. N. Yahlem and A. J. Yahlem, were a physician and a student, respectively, before they started a small used car business two years ago. The business grew rapidly, and for more than a year the Yahlems were too busy to think about installing an accounting system. They were keeping records of their transactions on scraps of paper, Yahlem said.

When it was decided last February to install an accounting system, Camien, who had been employed by the company to make up its income tax returns, got the job for his firm. The Yahlem company agreed to pay the Geraldine-Fink-Camien firm $1100 for the work, which was done by Camien.

The Yahlem company also employed Camien, at $100 a month, to work three days a week in keeping up the bookkeeping system which he installed. Camien, according to Yahlem, spent much more time over the company's books than he had agreed for, and when Charles H. Yahlem, head of the firm, spoke of this, he says, Camien replied, "You have a great business here, and some day I expect to have a good position with you."

Handled Company's Checks.
Yahlem said he noticed, one day, that an item of $700, representing a check received by the company, to which he had happened to give special attention, did not appear on the books. He said he asked Camien about it, and that Camien told him the check had been misplaced, but that later Camien showed him this check.

After this occurrence, Yahlem said, he kept a closer watch on the company's checks. In October, Yahlem said, he found that the company was short of ready money to a degree which did not seem to accord with its volume of business. At that time, he said, Camien made up a new statement of the Yahlem company's assets.

FORETOLD TRAGEDYLos Angeles Witness in Burch Trial Says Remark
Was Made That Kennedy
Might Soon "Pass Out."LETTERS FORM PART
OF STATE EVIDENCENotes Dated After Mrs.
Obenchain's Marriage
State That Husband Would Let Her Go.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 7.—When the trial of Arthur C. Burch, for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was resumed in the Superior Court here today, the State called Mrs. Mary A. Bailee of Los Angeles, who testified that last July, before Kennedy's death, Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain said that she feared "Belton would soon pass out," and also that she "could almost put her hand on the place where it would happen."

Mrs. Bailee said she was in a beauty parlor here last July when Mrs. Obenchain, who also is under indictment, came in and talked with her. Kennedy was shot early in August. Mrs. Bailee testified that she had told Mrs. Obenchain of a dream in which she had seen the latter seated by a country road or boulevard. She testified that after this conversation, Mrs. Obenchain began to cry and said, "I know exactly what was meant," and then said that Mrs. C. D. Kennedy, mother of Belton, had taken the position that she would rather see her son dead than married to Mrs. Obenchain, and she thought "Belton would soon pass out."

Refers to the Locality.
Then she added the statement, according to the witness, that she could almost put her hand on the spot where it would happen.

The State's case against Burch rested its "peak," in the opinion of attaches of the court, when the introduction of 46 letters alleged to have been written to Kennedy by Mrs. Obenchain.

Letters Dated After Marriage.
Among the letters introduced was one dated Coronado, Cal., in June, 1918, signed "Mrs. J. Belton Kennedy," in the handwriting having been identified as that of Mrs. Obenchain, who was then Miss Madalynne Conner. Half a dozen others containing expressions of affection, also dated in 1918, followed. Then came one dated Feb. 4, 1919, or about a month after the writer married Ralph R. Obenchain of Chicago. This letter, dated in Los Angeles and addressed to Kennedy, in this city, contained these passages:

"How life has changed. . . . Little did I dream that man-made laws could bind me so closely to another. . . . I know there is something beyond this."

A subsequent letter dated in the same month contained this passage: "You and I know why all this had to be. Keep faith and pray."

A letter dated Los Angeles, May 7, 1919, invited Kennedy to call on the writer at a downtown hotel and was signed "Your sweetheart, Obenchain."

Reference to Annulment.
A letter dated Evanston, Ill., Oct. 7, 1919, read:

"Have talked with R. all afternoon and will try to get an annulment at once. . . . He has consented to let me go."

Subsequent letters urged Kennedy to go to Chicago, one dated Dec. 27, 1919, containing the statement: "If you are not here by Jan. 16, I will go back to Mr. O." On Feb. 23, following, there was another stating "have discarded the name Obenchain. . . . Play the part of a gentleman and return my letters."

On May 1, 1920, Mrs. Obenchain wrote telling Kennedy not to go to Chicago, declaring he "had his chance," and again asked for her letters. An undated letter was next introduced in which she wrote she would have her annulment in a few weeks. "It almost kills me to see how R. takes it," she added, and in the last letter wrote: "R. does not know how soon I am going to marry."

In another undated letter, the writer declared she had told "R."

DR. LORENZ TO ABANDON
CLINICS AND GO HOMEAustrian Surgeon Announces
Opposition by Medical Profession Will Cause Return.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Dr. Adolph Lorenz, famous Austrian surgeon, announced today that in view of the opposition to his professional activities in this country from the medical profession he would discontinue free clinics and return to Vienna as soon as possible.

The announcement was made just after R. Kendrick Smith of Boston, department director of the American Osteopathic Association, had announced that the organization had invited Dr. Lorenz to tour the United States at its expense. Smith added that the osteopathic profession would also offer to Dr. Lorenz the use of a $1,000,000 hospital in New York for a period of five years and had induced philanthropists to finance the undertaking.

Before Dr. Lorenz's attitude was known, Anton Wedl, importer, who was largely instrumental in bringing the surgeon to the United States, said Dr. Lorenz would decline a tour throughout the country as his health would not permit such a trip.

Surgeon Issues Statement.

Dr. Lorenz explained his decision in the following statement: "In view of the widespread and great opposition to my professional activities in this country from the ranks of the medical profession, which I had hoped to conciliate, I feel I must discontinue all my plans and return to my beloved Vienna."

"I harbor no malice against the American profession and hope they will soon reconsider and accept the proffered hand of friendship with their Austrian brethren. If once the ice is broken, the current will do the rest and in the near future a reconciliation must take place anyhow."

"First, my great mission was to thank the American people for all they have done for the starving little children of Vienna. I did not fail in this. My endeavors to conciliate the profession failed. I made superhuman efforts. I tried in vain. I am sorry."

ULSTER ASKS FOR MORE
DATA ON PEACE TERMS;
DE VALERA IS SILENTBritish Officials in Speeches Express
Hope Belfast Government Will Join Free State—Rumored That Son of King May Be Appointed
Governor-General.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—King George today issued a proclamation releasing all political prisoners interned in Ireland.

The following announcement was made from Downing street: "In view of the agreement signed yesterday between the British and Irish delegations, His Majesty has approved the release forthwith of all Irish interned under article XIV B of the restoration of Order in Ireland Act. Instructions to this effect have been given."

Approximately 3400 interned persons are affected by the release order, which relates to all persons under internment as distinguished from those who have been tried and convicted; it was stated by the Irish officers.

It is certain that the treaty between England and Ireland will undergo searching examination before receiving the approval of Ulster, and many modifications undoubtedly will be proposed. Her consent, however, is not necessary, as under the treaty terms she is given the option of retaining her present status, after revision of her boundaries by a commission.

Favorable action by the Dail Eireann is thought to be fairly well assured, and that of the Imperial Parliament, which has been summoned to meet Dec. 14, is a foregone conclusion should the Dail approve the treaty.

King George came to London from Sandringham today to preside at a meeting of the Privy Council and to sign a proclamation calling a special session of Parliament for Wednesday next to consider the momentous agreement.

Should the agreement be approved, of which little doubt is entertained, the session will last only a few days and the Parliament will adjourn until the regular session in February, when a bill embodying the agreement will be dealt with.

The King is expected to open the special session in person, in which case the ceremony will assume the dignity and magnificence of a regular opening of Parliament. The King's speech will deal entirely with the first question of the wound yet debate will likewise be limited to Irish affairs.

Here and there, amid the general chorus of praise for the agreement, are sounded notes of warning that trouble may yet break out before a final settlement is effected, and this warning does not come from quarters opposing the agreement. It is pointed out that nobody has yet drawn from Eamon de Valera, Irish republican leader, a statement as to his attitude toward the plan.

In this connection the Westminster Gazette says: "He (De Valera) will not openly oppose the agreement if he can be persuaded that it is for the permanent peace of Ireland."

The newspaper also learns, it says, that the Government view is, "We are not out of the woods yet; there may still be troubles and difficulties ahead."

In other quarters it is said that the attitude of the Irish extremists is causing anxiety to the delegates. These warnings, however, are accompanied by expressions of hope and belief that the difficulties can be overcome.

The only opposing voice of consequence thus far is that of Sir Edward Carson, former Ulster leader, who is quoted by the Morning Post as saying that the Government's sons may be appointed the first Governor-General of Ireland. In the settlement of the centuries.

Ulster Premier
Says Peace May Possibly Be Near

BELFAST, Ireland, Dec. 7.

A message from Sir James Craig received by Lady Craig at Rathfriland, County Down, today, the Ulster Premier, said: "It now appears to me that peace may possibly be within sight if all work together to that end with patience and good will."

The Ulster Premier told the Ulster Parliament today he did not think it expedient to make any statement with regard to the details of the new Irish proposals, as there were ambiguities here and there in the document. Also, the Premier stated; there was a considerable amount of further information he must have in his possession before he could come to the right conclusions.

Sir James said he did not believe settlement and peace would be furthered by rushing tactics, and added that there would be a party meeting Thursday, at which, if his colleagues so desired, he would cross to London in order to bring to a very definite point some of those questions which seemed to him to require explanation.

Sir James strongly criticized Lord Chancellor Birkenhead's reference in his speech at Birmingham yesterday to the action of the Ulster Parliament, in Tyrone, and warned the Imperial Minister against "circulating the Ulster Royalists" by such speeches as those of Lord Birkenhead.

Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland, today spoke of the new Anglo-Irish agreement as "a fair enough settlement."

old quarrel between England and Ireland the question of allegiance, which up to the last moment threatened to wreck the negotiations, was surmounted by permitting the members of the Irish Parliament to swear allegiance to the Constitution of the Irish Free State and "be faithful to his majesty, the King."

Ireland is treated as a single entity in the provision of the treaty with special clauses providing against the possibility that should Ulster refuse acquiescence in the settlement, in which case the Government of Ireland act of 1920 will remain in force so far as the Northern Parliament is concerned, but with Belfast Newspaper Withholds Judgment Pending Study of Terms—General Rejoicing in Dublin.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Times, declaring that the settlement is "one of the greatest achievements in our imperial history," says that the proposals, framed with far-sightedness, reduces the whole problem of Ireland to manageable proportions. It contends that Britain has gone to lengths of generosity greater than many of her sternest critics even demanded, while the Sinn Fein delegates regarding the position of Ulster proved themselves courageous statesmen.

"Instead of pursuing the shadow of Irish union," says the Times, "they played boldly for the substance; they have a complete reply to any allegation that they consented to the partition of their country. The scheme to which they assented brings Irish union at an early date into the field of practical politics."

Boundary Commission Approved. The Times thinks that the boundary commission proposal is unsatisfactory, and is desirable in the interests of the future peace of Ireland, and expresses the opinion that the form of the commission will be generally regarded as satisfactory.

The Belfast News Letter withholds judgment "until the scheme is analyzed and the full effect of all the provisions, separately and collectively, upon the future of Ulster and Ireland are ascertained."

"In all probability," the Letter continues, "a conference between the Imperial Cabinet and the Northern Cabinet will be necessary; the Parliament and people of Northern Ireland must know beyond all doubt what the Imperial Parliament's interpretation of the terms is before a decision is taken by the Northern Parliament."

The paper adds that it will be difficult for the Northern Parliament to accept revision of the Ulster boundary by a commission. It declared that there will be general objection to the proposed basis of revision, adding:

"Counting heads is not the only factor in the matter, and, in our opinion, the North cannot agree to the proposed form of settlement. We say, not if it cannot be adjusted; but as it stands it cuts right across a first principle whereby, Northern Ireland is held."

Enthusiastic Over Treaty. The Daily News, under the caption "God Save the King," greets the treaty with enthusiasm. It foresees difficulty with Ulster, probably also with Sinn Fein extremists, but says that when the British Government formally indorses this agreement, it did the thing which makes any return to the policy of force in Ireland an impossibility.

"We are quite content that the public opinion of both countries," adds the News, "will endorse the settlement with such overwhelming enthusiasm that any resistance must in the long run be overborne."

The Daily Mail, heartily indorsing the settlement, says that the Government and the Daily Express, assumes that Ulster approved, declaring that unless the arrangement was agreeable to Ulster "we cannot suppose the Government would have made their welcome announcement."

The Manchester Guardian characterizes the settlement as a splendid achievement, reflecting the utmost credit for the patience and reasonableness of the negotiators.

Post Single Exception. The Morning Post is again almost the single exception to the chorus of praise rejoicing at the Irish settlement. The Post says:

"Never before has the British Government quailed before armed rebellion, and organized insurrection. These things are the more remarkable because they were done not only with impunity, but with the acquiescence of public men of commanding aspect, and with a large measure of general approval, or at least of absence of protest on the part of the people."

"Wherever our tongue is spoken," says the Daily Telegraph, referring to the Irish agreement, "the news will be heard with heartfelt joy and thankfulness. The event is the greatest that has happened in the internal affairs of this country for generations. The dignity of the throne and the security and integrity of the empire is compromised. Therefore, we will sign the treaty as a supreme event."

The Premier in signing the agreement has written his name among the greatest in our history."

Tribute to Lloyd George. The newspaper finds little in complete agreement with all the articles

Text of Treaty Between England and Ireland

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 7.

THE text of the "treaty" between England and Ireland, as officially announced last night, follows:

"Article I.—Ireland shall have the same constitutional status in the community of nations known as the British Empire as the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa, with a Parliament having powers to make laws for peace and order and good government in Ireland, and an executive responsible to that Parliament, and shall be styled and known as the Irish Free State."

"Article II.—Subject to provisions hereinafter set out in the position of the Irish Free State in relation to the Imperial Parliament, the Government and otherwise shall be that of the Dominion of Canada, and the law, practice and constitutional usage governing the relationship of the crown, or representative of the crown, and the Imperial Parliament to the Dominion of Canada shall govern their relationship to the Irish Free State."

"Article III.—A representative of the crown in Ireland shall be appointed in like manner as the Governor-General of Canada and in accordance with the practice observed in making such appointments."

"Article IV.—The oaths to be taken by the members of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall be in the following form:

"I do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State as by law established, and that I will be faithful to the duties of King George V., and his heirs and successors by law, in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations."

"Article V.—The Irish Free State shall assume liability for service of the public debt of the United Kingdom as existing at the date hereof and towards the payment of war pensions as existing on that date in such proportion as may be fair and equitable, having regard to any claims on the part of Ireland by way of set-off or counter-claims, the amount of such sums being determined, in default of agreement, by the arbitration of one or more independent persons being citizens of the British Empire."

"Article VI.—Until an arrangement has been made between the British and Irish Governments whereby the Irish Free State undertakes her own coast defense, the coast defense of Northern Ireland shall be undertaken by his Majesty's imperial forces, but this shall not include the connection or maintenance by the Government of Irish Free State of such vessels as are necessary for the protection of the revenue or the fisheries. The foregoing provisions of this article shall be reviewed at a conference of representatives of the British and Irish Governments to be held at the expiration of five years from the date hereof with a view to the undertaking by Ireland of a share in her own coastal defense."

"Article VII.—The Government of the Irish Free State shall afford to his Majesty's imperial force (a) in time of peace such harbor and other facilities as are indicated in the annex hereto, or such facilities as may from time to time be agreed between the British Government and the Irish Free State; and (b) in time of war such facilities as may from time to time be agreed between the British Government and the Irish Free State for the purpose of such defense as aforesaid."

"Article VIII.—With a view to securing observance of the principles of international law, the Government of the Irish Free State shall make laws under that act, including matters which, under said act, are within the jurisdiction of the Council of Ireland, the same powers as in the rest of Ireland, subject to such provisions as may be agreed to in the manner hereinafter appearing."

"Article IX.—The ports of Great Britain and the Irish Free State shall be freely open to the ships of the other country on the payment of the customary port and other dues."

"Article X.—The Government of the Irish Free State agrees to pay fair compensation, on terms not less favorable than those accorded by the act of 1920, to justices, officers and members of police forces and other public servants who are discharged by it or who retire in consequence of the change of government effected in pursuance of the hereof paragraph. Provided that this agreement shall not apply to members of the auxiliary police force or persons recruited in Great Britain for the Royal Irish Constabulary during the two years next preceding the date hereof."

"Article XI.—The Government of the Irish Free State shall assume responsibility for such compensation of pensions as may be payable to any of these excepted persons."

"Article XII.—Until the expiration of one month from the passing of the act of Parliament for the ratification of this instrument, the powers of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall not be exercisable as respects Northern Ireland, and the provisions of the Government of Ireland act of 1920 shall, so far as they relate to Northern Ireland, remain of full force and effect, and no election shall be held for the return of members to the Parliament of the Irish Free State for the constituencies of Northern Ireland unless a resolution is passed by both houses of Parliament of the Irish Free State to the effect, that the powers of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall no longer extend to Northern Ireland and the provisions of the Government of Ireland act of 1920, including those relating to the Council of Ireland, shall, so far as they relate to Northern Ireland, continue to be of full force and effect, and this instrument shall have effect subject to the necessary modifications:

LONDON, Dec. 7.

THE text of the "treaty" between England and Ireland, as officially announced last night, follows:

"Article I.—Ireland shall have the same constitutional status in the community of nations known as the British Empire as the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa, with a Parliament having powers to make laws for peace and order and good government in Ireland, and an executive responsible to that Parliament, and shall be styled and known as the Irish Free State."

"Article II.—Subject to provisions hereinafter set out in the position of the Irish Free State in relation to the Imperial Parliament, the Government and otherwise shall be that of the Dominion of Canada, and the law, practice and constitutional usage governing the relationship of the crown, or representative of the crown, and the Imperial Parliament to the Dominion of Canada shall govern their relationship to the Irish Free State."

"Article III.—A representative of the crown in Ireland shall be appointed in like manner as the Governor-General of Canada and in accordance with the practice observed in making such appointments."

"Article IV.—The oaths to be taken by the members of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall be in the following form:

"I do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State as by law established, and that I will be faithful to the duties of King George V., and his heirs and successors by law, in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations."

"Article V.—The Irish Free State shall assume liability for service of the public debt of the United Kingdom as existing at the date hereof and towards the payment of war pensions as existing on that date in such proportion as may be fair and equitable, having regard to any claims on the part of Ireland by way of set-off or counter-claims, the amount of such sums being determined, in default of agreement, by the arbitration of one or more independent persons being citizens of the British Empire."

"Article VI.—Until an arrangement has been made between the British and Irish Governments whereby the Irish Free State undertakes her own coast defense, the coast defense of Northern Ireland shall be undertaken by his Majesty's imperial forces, but this shall not include the connection or maintenance by the Government of Irish Free State of such vessels as are necessary for the protection of the revenue or the fisheries. The foregoing provisions of this article shall be reviewed at a conference of representatives of the British and Irish Governments to be held at the expiration of five years from the date hereof with a view to the undertaking by Ireland of a share in her own coastal defense."

"Article VII.—The Government of the Irish Free State shall afford to his Majesty's imperial force (a) in time of peace such harbor and other facilities as are indicated in the annex hereto, or such facilities as may from time to time be agreed between the British Government and the Irish Free State; and (b) in time of war such facilities as may from time to time be agreed between the British Government and the Irish Free State for the purpose of such defense as aforesaid."

"Article VIII.—With a view to securing observance of the principles of international law, the Government of the Irish Free State shall make laws under that act, including matters which, under said act, are within the jurisdiction of the Council of Ireland, the same powers as in the rest of Ireland, subject to such provisions as may be agreed to in the manner hereinafter appearing."

"Article IX.—The ports of Great Britain and the Irish Free State shall be freely open to the ships of the other country on the payment of the customary port and other dues."

"Article X.—The Government of the Irish Free State agrees to pay fair compensation, on terms not less favorable than those accorded by the act of 1920, to justices, officers and members of police forces and other public servants who are discharged by it or who retire in consequence of the change of government effected in pursuance of the hereof paragraph. Provided that this agreement shall not apply to members of the auxiliary police force or persons recruited in Great Britain for the Royal Irish Constabulary during the two years next preceding the date hereof."

"Article XI.—The Government of the Irish Free State shall assume responsibility for such compensation of pensions as may be payable to any of these excepted persons."

"Article XII.—Until the expiration of one month from the passing of the act of Parliament for the ratification of this instrument, the powers of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall not be exercisable as respects Northern Ireland, and the provisions of the Government of Ireland act of 1920 shall, so far as they relate to Northern Ireland, remain of full force and effect, and no election shall be held for the return of members to the Parliament of the Irish Free State for the constituencies of Northern Ireland unless a resolution is passed by both houses of Parliament of the Irish Free State to the effect, that the powers of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall no longer extend to Northern Ireland and the provisions of the Government of Ireland act of 1920, including those relating to the Council of Ireland, shall, so far as they relate to Northern Ireland, continue to be of full force and effect, and this instrument shall have effect subject to the necessary modifications:

Provided that: If such an address is presented to his Majesty by both houses of Parliament of Northern Ireland to the effect, that the powers of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall no longer extend to Northern Ireland and the provisions of the Government of Ireland act of 1920, including those relating to the Council of Ireland, shall, so far as they relate to Northern Ireland, continue to be of full force and effect, and this instrument shall have effect subject to the necessary modifications:

Provided that: If such an address is presented to his Majesty by both houses of Parliament of Northern Ireland to the effect, that the powers of the Parliament of the Irish Free State shall no longer extend to Northern Ireland and the provisions of the Government of Ireland act of 1920, including those relating to the Council of Ireland, shall, so far as they relate to Northern Ireland, continue to be of full force and effect, and this instrument shall have effect subject to the necessary modifications:

Irish Peace Terms Considered by Ulster

The stipulation that a special commission shall determine new boundaries for Northern Ireland.

Provisions also are made for the cooperation of the two Parliaments in providing certain safeguards in the event of Ulster remaining out of the new Free State. Neither Parliament, however, will be permitted under the treaty to make laws endowing any particular religion, or to impose any religious disability.

The treaty looks to Ireland in the future undertaking its own coastal defense and provides that Ireland shall in time of war give the British forces necessary harbor and facilities. It further, by providing against international limitation of armaments, recognizes the Irish Free State's right to maintain its own military defense force.

new partner of the empire; her spokesmen, the Irish Prime Minister, will meet on equal terms with the Prime Minister of Great Britain in determining the fortunes of that greater whole—the empire, of which Ireland is not the least illustrious partner."

Chamberlain expressed the conviction that before Christmas peace and good will would be established between the "parent races of the British Commonwealth," and he appealed with emotion to Northern Ireland to join the new free state.

Theatrical effect was added to the great drama staged in Downing street immediately after the signing of the treaty,

SMALL INDICTMENT NOT LEGAL, COUNSEL ARGUES

Declares Instrument Fails to Charge Governor, Received Penny of State's Money.

By the Associated Press.
WAUKEGAN, Ill., Dec. 7.—Attorney C. C. Le Forgue, of counsel for Gov. Small, expects to finish his arguments today for quashing the indictments against the Governor charging him with embezzlement of State funds while Treasurer.

Following Le Forgue, Alexander Beaubien, another member of counsel for the defense, will attack the embezzlement charge. It is expected that this will occupy today and part of tomorrow.

Attorney Le Forgue has contended that the grand jury which indicted the Governor was impeached illegally and therefore the indictment could not stand.

Centering his attack on the conspiracy indictment, Le Forgue yesterday closed the second day of his fight with the declaration that the indictment fails to charge the Governor with ever receiving one penny of the State's money.

"The conspiracy charge," Le Forgue said, "recites the details of an alleged plot between Gov. Small, Vernon Curtis, Grant Park (Ill.) banker, and his brother, the late Edward Curtis, to take State funds for their own benefit, but fails to charge that Len Small's hand was polluted with this money."

When the defense completes its attack on the indictments, State's Attorney Mortimer of Sangamon County is expected to ask the court to frame a reply, in which event the arguments will be continued, possibly until next week. Court adjourned early yesterday because Le Forgue was worn out by the strain of a day and a half of speaking.

Small and Curtis in Court.
Gov. Small and Curtis were in court again yesterday, and at the afternoon session were accompanied by Mrs. Small and Mrs. Curtis. Last night the Governor was the guest at a dinner of the Waukegan Rotary Club.

Le Forgue made his principal point on the alleged failure of the conspiracy indictment to charge the Governor with an overt act in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy to defraud the State. Reading the 12 conspiracy counts and the one count in which it is alleged the Governor and Curtis operated a confidence game, Le Forgue declared the indictments failed to set forth which section of the criminal code had been violated.

Special Return Attached.
The Governor's chief lawyer renewed his attack on the legality of the "special return" of the Sangamon County grand jury, in which the alleged evidence against the defendants was outlined at the morning session. He argued that the return of the special report with the indictments rendered the indictments themselves void because the return was not sanctioned by law.

Judge Edwards interjected that his court is not "called upon to place the stamp of approval on the action of the grand jury of Sangamon County," and asked if the presiding Judge there could not deal with contempt, if the grand jurors or the State's Attorney's office had been in contempt in returning the report.

The only question at issue in his court, affecting the report, Judge Edwards said, is "whether or not their action is so far outside their duty under the law that it nullifies this action."

Reports Loss of $1000 Barpin.
Mrs. William Engelbach of 4720 Westminster place, wife of a physician, has asked detectives to investigate the disappearance of a platinum barpin, set with 31 diamonds and valued at $1000, from a dresser in her home Dec. 5.

Catarrh Of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently mistaken for indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furrowed, coated tongue, bad breath, sour, burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds steady disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarck Magnesia. In half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach, while the Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot-water treatment. Moreover, the Bismarck Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid, which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and soothe the inflamed, raw, natural digestion, with-out distress of any kind. Bismarck Magnesia is harmless, pleasant and easy to take, and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, such as citrate, etc., but get the pure Bismarck form (powder or tablets), specially prepared for this purpose.

13 BODIES RECOVERED AFTER EXPLOSION THAT KILLS 100

Number Injured by Dynamite Disaster in Rhenish Prussia and Houses Are Damaged.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The bodies of only 13 of the more than 100 persons killed in the explosion yesterday at the Nobel dynamite works at Sanrion, Rhenish Prussia, have been recovered, according to the latest reports received here. The number of injured has not been ascertained.

The explosion, which occurred in an oil tank, destroyed the greater part of the factory. Houses in the neighborhood suffered badly, roofs being blown off and walls collapsing.

Special Christmas Gift Services

Gift Certificates

Allow your friends to select their own Christmas gifts, to choose exactly what they have been longing for. Our Gift Certificates are issued in various departments and on the Mezzanine Floor.

Glove Bonds are ever welcome and tasteful gifts, since by this means the Gloves are fitted and chosen according to the personal taste of the recipient.

Gift Granny

Write or telephone Gift Granny and presto! All your Christmas worries are transformed into Christmas joys. She will find out in the most tactful manner just what each friend wants most—and it may be she can delve into the secret desires of your own family.

First she writes a letter to your friend, asking your friend to state frankly just what would be most welcome and acceptable. Then secretly, Gift Granny turns over to you the list she has received and your shopping is but a simple process.

You can have a happy feeling on Christmas day that every present you have sent found a warm welcome.

No charge and no obligation is attached to Gift Granny's service, which we extend to our friends and patrons.

The Annual Sale of "Cheney" Mufflers

Men's—Tubular Style

$1.45 $1.95 $2.65

EACH year at this time occurs this sale of Cheney Mufflers, when we offer this manufacturer's so-called "irregulars," and also perfect merchandise consisting of floor samples and surplus stocks. The prices are substantially less than regular.

Tubular Mufflers are light and compact, and take up but little room in a man's pocket. Various widths and styles are offered, in solid colors, heather mixtures, stripes, checks, Persian patterns and two-tone accordion effects. They are full length, and silk fringed. Well chosen and attractive gifts. (Main Floor.)

Men's Handkerchiefs

Irish Hand-Embroidered Initial

The Rarest of Values

At 25c Each

OF the many, many splendid values that our Handkerchief Section presents, this takes premier position among those for many months. Perfectly made, of exquisite Egyptian cotton yarns, they display a hem of finest shirre hemstitching and a hand-embroidered initial. Under ordinary circumstances the embroidering alone would amount to more than the complete Handkerchief.

A very fortunate negotiation brought a great stock of thousands of these Handkerchiefs to us at a figure of a moderateness out of all harmony with their superior qualities.

The placing of such Handkerchiefs on sale at the price we are quoting comes very close to a phenomenal happening.

It is indeed a most auspicious occurrence for Christmas shoppers. (Handkerchief Section—Main Floor.)

TEMPORARY RESTRAINING WRIT HALTS DESTRUCTION OF BEER

A temporary restraining order against Federal officials charged with the enforcement of the prohibition laws was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Farris in the suit of the Falstaff Corporation to enjoin the officials from enforcing against them the terms of the anti-beer amendment to the Volstead act, passed by Congress Nov. 20.

Judge Farris set Dec. 15 for a hearing of the application of the brewery for a temporary injunction. In its suit, the Falstaff concern alleges the enactment of the anti-beer bill was beyond the powers of Congress, and that that body went further in its passage than the provisions of the prohibition amendment permits.

The restraining order will prevent the threatened destruction of a quantity of beer the brewery now has on hand, but will not permit the sale of it to druggists.

POLICEMAN KILLED MYSTERIOUSLY IN REVOLVER DUEL

at home all evening except from 7 to 7:35 p. m. when he went to a hardware store to buy a padlock. White and Rae, at the inquest, repeated their statements that their only purpose in visiting the neighborhood of the shooting in the last few weeks was to watch White's wife.

At the inquest, the Pellgreens and other witnesses said they could not identify White and Rae as the men they saw running away after the shooting.

Charles Campbell of 5039 Maffitt avenue was first to reach the slain policeman. He said he found McGrath's holster and empty revolver on the sidewalk and put them back in McGrath's pocket before other policemen arrived. He also told of having seen a Studebaker car drive away from the scene of the shooting. There was one man in the machine, he said, and a second man ran after it and tried to catch it.

but failed, and then ran north in King's highway.

Pellgreene and his wife said that about 6:50 p. m. they saw two men walk east in St. Louis avenue from King's highway and thought they recognized them as two men about whom they complained to Policemen McGrath and O'Brien three weeks ago.

Pellgreene said that about half an hour later he heard two shots and immediately after heard five heavier shots. Policemen say the report of an automatic pistol is lighter than that of a police revolver and that the difference in the sound of the shots indicated that McGrath was fired upon and returned the fire.

Fleeing Men Described.

Mrs. Pellgreene said she also heard the shots and went to the front door and saw two men running away. She described one as wearing a dark coat, khaki trousers with wrapped leggings and a dark cap or hat and the other as also wearing a dark coat, khaki trousers and a dark cap. She saw no automobile.

At the Deer Street Station today White said that since the separation he and his brother-in-law had been watching Mrs. White and had visited the neighborhood of her St. Louis avenue home several times. He denied they were armed on any of these occasions. No khaki trousers were found in the White and Rae homes.

Night Riders Round Up 76 Men in Raids After Killing.

Following the killing of Policeman McGrath the police "night riders" arrested 76 men between 9 p.

m. and midnight. Saloons and pool-rooms were raided by the police and all questionable characters taken to jail for investigation. Some of the suspects were released shortly after their arrests.

Homemade Remedy
Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GONNELLA FREED BY JURY IN LIQUOR CASE

Manager of Former Belvedere Cafe and His Storekeeper Were Taken in Raid in October.

After deliberating about 15 minutes, a jury in Judge Miller's division of the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday afternoon returned an acquittal verdict in the case of Joseph Gonnella, manager, and Robert Wernan, storekeeper, of the Belvedere Cafe, 4901 Delmar boulevard, jointly charged with having had whiskey in their possession there. The cafe recently was closed by Gonnella for lack of business.

The charge was based on the seizure of a quart bottle of whiskey behind the waiter's service bar adjoining the restaurant when a police search was made at 10 p. m. Oct. 25 last.

Police Lieutenant George Dineen testified that he and five other policemen made the search and that he was present when the bottle of whiskey was found by Policeman McGranahan while Wernan was on duty behind the service bar. The Lieutenant said he had reason to believe the general public had access to this bar, though it was supposed to be only for the waiters for use in filling orders given by customers in the restaurant. His reference to the Belvedere bar as a saloon brought a protest from Frank M. Slater, attorney for Gonnella, who said that since the coming of prohibition there has been no such thing as a saloon.

"I think you are mistaken," said Judge Miller. "The word 'saloon' is very broad in its application and can properly be applied to any place operated as a bar, whether for the sale of soft drinks or intoxicants." Lieut. Dineen said the seized liquor "smelt like whisky." In reply to a question he said he smelt whisky about a dozen times in the last year. A representative of the City Chemist's office testified that liquor was 100-proof whisky manufactured within the last year. There was testimony that after the seizure at the service bar the policeman, guided by Gonnella, searched the cafe cellar and found no intoxicants. Gonnella testified that at the time of the raid he was manager and had no proprietary interest in the cafe, which, he said, was run by a corporation. He and Wernan denied they had knowledge of the presence of whisky and Wernan testified that he was doing emergency duty for the first time at the service bar.

Mrs. Marsha Skinner Johns Dies.
Mrs. Marsha Skinner Johns, 72 years old, of 4423 Wilcox avenue, founder of Carondelet Christian Church, and a resident of St. Louis for more than 50 years, died Monday at her home. She is survived by her husband and seven children. The latter are Miss Mayme Skinner of Los Angeles, Cal.; John and Hamilton Skinner, St. Louis; Mrs. Josephine Marshall and Mrs. Maud Johnson, St. Louis; Mrs. Blanche Mellor, Chicago, and Mrs. Hazel Hill, Kansas City. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the residence. Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery.

Bombings in Lisbon Reported.
MADRID, Dec. 7.—Several bomb explosions in Lisbon during the night of Dec. 5 are reported in a telegram received here today from Tui, on the Portuguese frontier. A number of arrests of distributors of seditious pamphlets were made, the message adds.

FURTHER REVISION OF TAXES URGED IN MELLON'S REPORT

Secretary of Treasury Suggests Cut in Maximum Income Surtax Rate to 20 or 25 Per Cent.

FOR PROMPT FUNDING OF FOREIGN LOANS

As to Simplification, He Asserts, the Greatest That Can Be Made Is in Reduction of Rates.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Further revision of the tax laws, with a reduction of the maximum income surtax rates to 20 or 25 per cent and adjustment of the rates on business profits and estates, is suggested by Secretary Mellon in his first annual report, transmitted today to Congress.

The Treasury Secretary also announces that the treasury's policy with respect to deferment of the soldiers' bonus is unchanged and urges prompt funding of the ten billions of dollars of foreign loans as "one of the outstanding needs of the present economic situation."

Mellon also says that Congress that the maturity within the next 18 months of $4,750,000,000 of the short-dated debt "makes it imperative that the Government pursue a policy of the utmost economy and avoid new undertakings that would throw additional burdens on the treasury and embarrass the funding operations" with respect to the floating debt.

Revenue Revision Stressed.
Revenue revision is the subject upon which the secretary lays the most stress. He says the changes in the tax law voted by Congress last month "gave substantial relief to business and industry and restore in some measure the freedom of business transactions," but our system of taxation still requires careful and thoughtful consideration. He then proceeds to say that if the loss of revenue resulting from the reductions in surtax and other rates suggested cannot be made up by rigid economy in expenditures, "it can be met, either by placing a tax on certain specific articles, or by a low rate general tax on a broad class of articles or transactions."

"It is of vital importance," Mellon declares, "that adjustment be made in our scheme of taxation whereby the burden will not fall unduly, either directly or indirectly, upon any particular class, and at the same time will not seriously interfere with productive industry and the general prosperity of the country."

"It would not seem either wise or necessary to change from our present system of taxation to new untied plans. By retaining the income tax with reasonable surtax rates, which in peace times ultimately should not rise above 10 per cent, taxpayers would still be required to contribute in proportion to their ability to pay, while by placing a certain amount of tax on specific articles, or classes of articles, or transaction, also low a rate that they could readily be borne without injury, the income tax could be materially simplified, the tax laws could be more readily administered and at the same time the needed revenues would be raised without the evil effects now resulting from the present excessive rates of taxation."

Mellon informs Congress that the amount of revenue involved in the suggested reduction of rates "is not nearly as great as is generally supposed."

HYGIENE EDUCATION URGED AT INSTITUTE

Officers Report Sessions, Ending Today, Have Been Unusually Successful.

The first public health institute held here under Federal, State and city auspices closes this afternoon and officers in charge say it has been one of the most successful ever held in the country. Attendance at all the sessions has been larger than anticipated, speakers have been direct in their addresses, and at every session there has been animated discussion of the addresses with many questions from people in the audience.

"A most cheerful prospect for future fight against venereal disease is evidenced by the interest in the St. Louis Institute," said an official of the United States Public Health Service yesterday. "We can go on now realizing that it will not be so difficult in the future to bring our subject before the public and to convince that public that this is not a question for a few social hygiene workers and physicians, but one that concerns the health and welfare of every human being."

A meeting in the forenoon at the Statler Hotel on the subject of sex education was presided over by Dr. Frances Bishop, and among the speakers were Dr. James Stewart, director of hygiene in the St. Louis public schools, who told of the social hygiene work in the schools, and Lewis M. Dugan, principal of the Eugene Field School. Dr. R. L. Russell of the State Board of Health and Dr. William Edler of the U. S. Public Health Service were speakers at the afternoon session.

Dr. Rachelle Yarros of the U. S. Public Health Service, who gave the opening address this morning, took as her subject: "What and How to Teach Children." She made a plea that sex education might be made as much a part of the child's education as any other subject.

"Teach the children to know the organs of their body as they know they have a brain, and let them know the functions of these organs. Teach them the right names, and give them the truth in a normal way, and then you will destroy morbid curiosity which leads to so much evil. Proper language is frequently responsible for proper thoughts," said Dr. Yarros.

"Don't try to tell a child everything at once; give it to him gradually and repeatedly, and always so that he feels the great sacredness and responsibility of his own body. Make him realize as you go on that the most wonderful thing in the world is the reproduction of the human being. However, sex education is only half the battle; the other half is to create a standard of life that is so true, so high, that the child's character grows in strength and resisting power with his increasing days. Make yourself a pattern for the child and his environment a protection to him against evil."

ment of the tax on business profits, Mellon suggests no specific rates, but calls attention that the repeal of the excess profits tax made necessary an increase of 2 1/2 per cent in the corporation income tax and that this with the capital stock tax makes the total levy on corporations approximately 15 per cent.

"When we remember," he writes, "that the great bulk of the business of the country, both large and small, is carried on under corporate form and that the net income must largely be distributed in dividends, and that these dividends are in turn subject to surtax, in the hands of persons receiving them, it is at once seen that the resulting taxation to persons engaged in productive business is very heavy. For instance, a stockholder subject to surtax at 10 per cent really pays about 25 per cent on his dividends; while a stockholder subject to a 50 per cent surtax would be taxed about 65 per cent on such profits."

Declaring that there were two "chief objections" to the present high estate tax rates, running up to 25 per cent on the total value of estates, Mellon says much of what he has said respecting the high surtaxes applies equally to the estate taxes. Another objection he sets forth is that in many instances a forced liquidation of estates to obtain the necessary money to pay the taxes, result in loss to the estates as well as "to everyone else who is interested in these properties, especially if at the same time they desire to or 'must' sell."

View of Simplification.
Referring to the oft-repeated statement that the tax laws need simplification, Mellon declares "that the greatest simplification that can be made is in the reduction of the rates."

"So long as the rates were low," he asserts, "there was not much difficulty in the administration of the law; even though the system was entirely new and the organization administering it unfamiliar with the operation of such a law. The complexity of the law so far as it concerns the income tax itself, has arisen largely out of the high rates which make every point that arises involve substantial amounts of money, and which means that each possible question is contested by the taxpayers and by the Government and resulting delay in the collection of the revenue, irritation and annoyance and expense on the part of the taxpayer and costly litigation. With moderate rates, very much of this difficulty would disappear."

Woman Loses Cigarette Case.
A reward of $100 is offered by Mrs. Bradford Shinkle of 48 Port-cigarette case, with black enamel exterior. The case disappeared after Shinkle, who is treasurer of the Johnson, Stephens & Shinkle Shoe

Co., took it downtown to have it revalued by a jeweler, for the information of an insurance company, with which the case is insured. The case is described as having diamond hinges and clasps, and a black silk cord was attached. It was valued at several hundred dollars.

MOTION FOR REHEARING IN REDISTRICTING CASE DENIED

Supreme Court Divides, 4 to 3, as on Saturday, in Overruling Attorney-General.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 7.—The Supreme Court on Saturday overruled, by a vote of four to three, the motion for a rehearing in the mandamus suit of Arthur V. Lash against Secretary of State Becker, the senatorial redistricting case, in which the court Saturday held the attempted Hyde-Becker-Barrett restricting unconstitutional. The court divided along party lines Saturday on the opinion of Judge Graves, Democrat, knocking out the districting. Chief Justice James T. Blair and Judges Walker and Woodson, all Democrats, concurring, and Judges Elder, David E. Blair and Hughes, Republicans, dissenting. The court divided in exactly the same way on the motion for rehearing. Barrett said the case could not be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, because no Federal question was involved. This ends the case.

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1903 I had two ribs torn away and came home broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull charged me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever, since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of Dr. Drake's GLESSCO, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrh mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. JAPAN READY TO SCRAP ALLIANCE, EDITOR DECLARES

Agreement With Britain Lost
Vitality When War Swept German Menace From Asia, He Says.

DANGER SEEN IN ITS CONTINUANCE

Suspicion in America, Now

Britain's Trade Rival, Certain to Follow Renewal of

Pact, in Zumoto's Opinion

By ADACHI KINOSUKE,
A Staff Correspondent of the Jiji
Shimpo, Tokio.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—In the opinion of the first representative of the people of Japan on the Anglo-Japanese alliance is being pushed more and more in the general direction of an executioner's blade. Our official delegation is distinguishing itself by its increasing reticence on this theme. Other leaders of Japanese thought and politics outside the delegation are talking, however.

What follows are, as far as I know, the first representative views of the people of Japan on the alliance, as distinguished from the Government's views, given to the American press. Motomasa Zumoto, who gives them, was the private secretary of the famous Prince Ito, while the latter was Premier. He served three years in the House of Representatives of the Imperial Diet. He is the editor and proprietor of the Herald of Asia. His fingers have been constantly on the pulse of the public opinion of Japan for the last 25 years.

Alliance Lost Vitality in War.

Here are the high lights of his views:

"The alliance lost its vitality when the world war swept from the political horizon of Asia the menace of Germany. As affairs stand now, there is no common enemy in sight and without a tangible and powerful armed fist threatening the peace of the Far East, the alliance is a pleasant mirage without substance. The only conceivable advantage of its renewal will be the negative one of avoiding a possible sense of estrangement that might result from the discontinuance of the pact. This, of course, is the one unfortunate element in the whole business. But it is my profound conviction that the British Empire and Japan can be friends without the bonds of an alliance. Fortunately Japan is so far away from the center and the principal theater of British aspirations that nowhere do the vital interests of the two countries clash. We do not aspire to the dominant position as a maritime power. We have not the slightest desire to challenge British supremacy in the field of world finance and trade.

Danger in Continuance.

"The disadvantages of continuing the alliance, on the other hand, are positive and serious. The first and the most obvious disadvantage is the American suspicion that it is ultimately directed against her. And there is no convincing answer to this except to scrap it. An entirely new situation has developed as the result of the elimination of Germany as Britain's trade competitor. In a sense that competition is now between America and Britain. And the situation between them is such that however loudly the London Government may declare its friendship for America, the renewal of the alliance is bound to arouse an unfortunate suspicion in America. Japan must destroy any such misunderstanding almost at any price.

To my query, 'What if Japan were diplomatically isolated as the result of scrapping the alliance?' Zumoto replied:

"Japan of today is passing through a period of reconstruction. We now need a period of self-inspection and a fresh orientation of our national progress and development. The sense and realization of the empire's complete isolation is bound to bring about a sense of responsibility even among the militarists."

CHAUFFEUR ACQUITTED OF ROBBERY CHARGE ON ALIBI

Claim That He Was Delivering Flowers Also Won His Acquittal in Murder Case Last March.

Clarence Whitney, 24 years old, a chauffeur, of 2430 North Taylor avenue, was acquitted yesterday by a jury in the Circuit Court of a charge of first degree robbery, although identified by Mrs. Helen Wenzel, proprietor of the store which he was accused of robbing, as the man who entered the store last Christmas and took $12 from her. Witnesses established an alibi for Whitney with testimony that he was at work delivering flowers in East St. Louis at the time of the robbery. Whitney was acquitted of a charge of killing John Arent, saloon keeper, at 1254 North Main street, Dec. 24, last, when the same alibi was advanced in his behalf at a trial of the case last March.

How can you stand the uncertainty?

Perhaps you haven't an unpleasant breath. But perhaps you have. And if you have, you should do something about it.

Try and find out. And if you are afflicted with halitosis (as it's called) in a mild way, the regular use of the liquid anti-septic—Listerine—will help a lot.

A serious case, of course, requires a dentist or physician.

PREDICTS RETURN TO WILSON LEAGUE PLAN

George Creel Discusses Probable Results of Washington Conference on Armaments.

George Creel, who was head of the wartime Bureau of Public Information, speaking before the Advertising club at Hotel Statler at luncheon yesterday on the problems of the present armament conference, predicted a return to the Wilson plan of the League of Nations as a world peace concert. He said:

"So-called practicality has at last been forced to see that war, and preparation for war, is a burden that civilization cannot carry. Armies and navies are crushing human energies until no life is left in them. Disarmament is no longer Utopian, but an economic necessity."

"Insurance That Never Insured." "No one is fooled today by buncombe about 'a strong navy.' We know now that there never was such a thing. A navy is strong only when other navies are weak. When the weak navies start building, a competition commences that has no end. Nor are people befuddled by the cry that limitation of armament is a surrender of insurance. We know now that it was an insurance that never insured. Germany paid 90 per cent of her income in premiums, only to find the policy without a single guaranty."

"As to probable results of the Washington conference. First, with respect to China. Japan has already won a victory by forcing recognition of her right to settle the Shantung matter by direct negotiations with poor, weak China. But putting this to one side for the moment, let us assume that Great Britain, France and Japan will enter into a contract to restore the territorial and political sovereignty of China. Where is there any power of enforcement? All three nations gave us that very pledge in 1900 in the matter of the open door, and for 20 years it has been a dead letter. When the pledge is contemptuously disregarded again, as it will be, what does the United States intend to do about it?"

"Now for the proposed suspension of naval programs. It looks today as if Japan would block even this small progress, but let us assume that her objections will be withdrawn, and that the Hughes proposals are accepted. Where will it leave us? Taxes will have been reduced appreciably, but the navies left afloat will still be large enough to burden every national budget and strong enough for every purpose of aggressive war. Also there is not a single word in the Hughes plan about submarines, that sinister agent of assassination that ought to be outlawed. Nor any word about aircraft, another equally devilish machine of destruction in war."

Land Armament Vital. "Also, more important than all, the Washington conference will adjourn without touching the vital question of land armament. Nor will a single step have been taken in the direction of real world peace by the creation of any international machinery for the sane settlement of international quarrels."

"Nothing is more obvious than the fact that these two questions are not in the authority of the Washington gathering. It includes five nations only, and while these are the major Powers, strength is no longer the test of leadership. Under no circumstances will the world endure another holy alliance, no matter how plausibly presented. The problem of land armament, plans for doing away with navies entirely, and a world court for the settlement of world disputes—these are matters that must be decided by all of the nations, not by any self-elected group. So, in the last analysis, the Washington conference, if it is honest, will merely work back to the Wilson plan of a world concert for world peace. And when this truth is driven home to President Harding, may he have the courage and vision to place the United States in the League of Nations."

CITY EMPLOYE ENDS LIFE AT ALEXIAN BROTHERS HOSPITAL

E. W. F. Leonhardt, Assistant in Collector's Office, Shoots Self in Mouth.

Emil W. F. Leonhardt, 56 years old, an assistant cashier in the City Collector's office, killed himself yesterday afternoon in his room at Alexian Brothers' Hospital, 3933 South Broadway, by shooting himself in the mouth. He had been a patient at the hospital, suffering from nervousness, since Nov. 11. Leonhardt attended a picture show with one of the priests early in the afternoon, returning to the hospital about 3:30 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later an attendant, who was distributing mail, found him dead on a couch in his room. A revolver with one exploded cartridge was near him.

A note on a table read: "My mind is leaving me. May God and my friends forgive me. Emil Leonhardt, care Alexian Brothers' Hospital."

Among his papers the police found a will dated Oct. 25, 1921. It bequeathed $2000 to Eugene Leonhardt, a brother, in Wittenberg, Germany; $2000 to Norman Leonhardt, a nephew, in Ambridge, Pa.; $2000 to Hans Hackel of 2745 Accomac street, managing editor of the Westliche Post, by which Leonhardt was employed a number of years ago, and the remainder of the estate to George Leonhardt, a brother, in Stuttgart, Germany, with the injunction that he should care for their mother. Fred W. Widmann of 5445 Longfellow boulevard was named executor without bond.

HENRY ELLIOT JR. PERSONALITY IS APPRAISED AT $232,666

Will Leave Residue of Estate to Wife and Daughters; Former to Receive at Least $25,000 a Year. An inventory of the estate of Henry Elliot Jr., 11 Kingsbury place, who died Sept. 9, shows that he left a personal estate appraised at $232,666.77, of which $130,400 is in bonds and $76,960 in stocks. The latter includes $47,500 stock of the Elliot

Frog and Switch Co., par value. By his will, Elliot gave $5000 to the Home of the Friendless and $5000 to the St. Louis Children's Hospital and $1000 to the Agnes Bertram Clinic, and left the residue in trust for his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Maltzke and Miss George Elliot, half of the income to go to the wife and the other half to be divided between the daughters, provided that the wife's share must always be at least $25,000 a year, absorbing the daughters' share and drawing upon the principal if necessary.

WOMAN'S TORSO IN RIVER

Headless and Limbless Body Cast Ashore at Lawrenceburg, Ind. By the Associated Press. LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Dec. 7.—The unclothed torso of a woman was cast ashore by the high waters of the Ohio River at this city today. Whether the head, arms and legs had been cut from the trunk or severed by the action of the water is the subject of medical investigation.

A force of nearly 40 young women will begin today to call on the various business establishments and offices in the city and leave the subscription lists for the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Fund. About 15,000 lists will be distributed.

The young women workers do not solicit or collect money, either on their first or "follow up" visits, and they are given strict instructions as to their manner of procedure in requesting permission to leave contribution blanks in public places. They are particularly cautioned not to insist upon leaving a blank in any place it is not wanted, or to argue the matter in any way, since it is desired that the blanks shall go only to places where they are welcome.

Each contribution blank is accompanied by a letter from the Post-Dispatch, addressed to the person or firm to whom the blank is addressed, asking that it be passed among the employees of the establishment, allowing all to have the opportunity of contributing if they wish.

A particular appeal is being made this year for the small contributions—the quarters, dimes and nickels—which if faithfully given by those who do not feel they can afford to give a larger sum, will add up to the $15,000 needed to provide Christmas cheer for the hundreds of persons in St. Louis who are unable to purchase the material things which are necessary for the holiday festivities.

Through the courtesy of William F. Shannon, operating manager of the Arcade building, the subscription list committee will have the use of Offices 520-522 for its activities. Bell and Kinloch telephone service is being furnished free of charge through the kindness of the telephone companies.

The personnel of the Subscription List Committee of the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Association follows:

Mrs. Marguerite Hopkins, chairman; Miss Eleanor Walsh, first vice chairman; Miss Mabel C. Elam, second vice chairman; and Mrs. Ralph Zork, secretary. Among the workers are: Misses Eleanor Atkins, Mary Burns, Kathleen Corson, Jessie Dorby, Josephine Croak, Ann Estelle Devine, Grace Devine, Annette Dougherty, Virginia Fowler, Jane Gillan, Lillian Hawn, Helene Hemphill, Marjorie Holden, Dolly Hyman, Madeline James, Delphine Kane, Alma Kingston, Sallie Krueger, Marjorie Luecke, Cecile Messing, Dorothy Meyer, Lorraine Meyer, Bessie Meyers, Catherine Mulholland, Lucille D. Musick, Frances O'Halloran, Dorothy Peacock, Theodora Schlueter, Clara Tomkins, Helen Van Dan, Marie Zherst and Misses Kenneth L. Chora, W. F. Dowdall and Florence Klein.

PACKING HOUSES SHORT-HANDED IN THE GIRLS' DEPARTMENTS

Managers Say They Are Getting All Men They Need—Strike Situation Unchanged.

There was no change today in the strike of packing-house employees at National City against a reduction of wages, except that the managers of the plants said they were getting all the men that they needed. They admitted, however, that the white girls who struck were not returning to work and that the plants were short-handed in the departments where girls are used.

The strike leaders deny that the men are going back to work, and scout the claims of the managers that they have plenty of men. Crowds gather at the Black Bridge, near the plants, for the arrival and departure of the "bull train," which carries employees from St. Louis to the plants and back, but there has been no violence. Two trucks were thrown last night through the windows of the home of Earl Crewgen, a negro packing-house employee, at 311 Winstanley avenue.

COOK'S TESTIMONY IN STILLMAN CASE FAVORABLE TO GUY

Child's Role in Divorce Suit at End and Lawyers Will Now Center on Separation Issue.

VISIT OF BANKER TO FAMILY DESCRIBED

Another Witness, Who Attended Mrs. Leeds, Former Chorus Girl, Tells of the Birth of Child.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Guy Stillman's silent role in the cross-crossed divorce suit of James A. Stillman, banker, of New York, in which the child was made co-defendant with his mother, has been played to its end.

Now the group of high-priced legal warriors for Mr. and Mrs. Stillman will center their battle on the divorce issue here and in Canada.

One witness at the hearing here yesterday was examined to complete the network of testimony in Guy's favor in the effort to prove that not Fred Beauvais, Indian guide and Canadian promoter, but Stillman, the banker, is his father. Two others dealt with the banker's life with Flo Leeds, which was forced into the case by Mrs. Stillman.

The hearing marked the close of a year of fairly concentrated attack and counter-attack revolving around Guy's good name, the legal as well as the dramatic focus of the case, for Stillman has testified that his sole purpose in bringing the suit was to prove illegitimacy against the child. The divorce was and is incidental.

To Descend on Montreal. Counsel will now rest until Jan. 11, when they move en masse upon Montreal, where a three-day hearing is planned. They will come back to this city on Jan. 17, and then, if nothing occurs to disturb the progress of the case, the suit will be in the hands of Daniel J. Gleason, referee.

Counsel for Mrs. Stillman sought again yesterday to show through the testimony of Mary Sullivan, a cook employed by the Stillmans at their country place at Pleasantville, that the banker had visited his family there a certain length of time prior to Guy's birth. The purpose of this testimony was to contradict that given by Mrs. Percy A. Rockefeller, Mrs. Stillman's sister. The cook's story placed the banker at Pleasantville on two or three occasions between Dec. 17, 1917, and St. Patrick's day, 1919. Guy was born in November, 1918. Mrs. Rockefeller swore that the banker was in New York during that period.

In the Christmas holiday of 1918 the cook remembered distinctly that she had seen Stillman pass through the kitchen and use a telephone in the butler's pantry. She recalled, too, the illness of Miss Annie Stillman and the consequent visit of the Stillman family to the St. Regis Hotel in New York. The defense has already produced witnesses to swear to Stillman's presence at the St. Regis in February, 1919.

Mary J. Forney, a nurse, and Mary Young Thorne, a negro maid employed by Mrs. Leeds, recalled various details of the chorus girl's relations with the banker.

Tells of Leeds' Episodes.

The nurse stopped at Stony Brook, L. I., with Mrs. Leeds and accompanied her to No. 64 East Eighty-sixth street, where Jay Leeds was born. When Mrs. Leeds was in Long Island, she said, the banker would visit her three times a week. After the baby was born, she testified, he telephoned continually. He was in the house, she said, when Dr. James A. Ogilvie was there and Jay was born. She described the banker at that time as "nervous and excited." He seemed solicitous of Mrs. Leeds' health, she said. Mrs. Leeds, she said, "knew how to handle Stillman." She recalled one time when he had refused to buy a dog; Mrs. Leeds persisted and the banker capitulated.

The maid said she had been employed by Mrs. Leeds at No. 13 East Sixty-fifth street. She said the banker called one day and Mrs. Leeds said: "Open the door for Mr. Stillman." On another occasion she had referred to him as "Jimmy." This testimony was unusual in that the banker had been supposed to have assumed the role of Mrs. Leeds' husband.

This ended the brief session and argument was had on the application for the Canadian Commission. The application will be presented to Supreme Court Justice Morschauer here Saturday. Affidavits describing its purposes will be submitted with the application.

Three Freed in Draft Case.

By the Associated Press.
SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 7.—The trial of Tom Caplis Jr., wealthy Bossier Parish planter, charged with conspiracy in connection with the departure of his two sons, Joe and Tom Caplis Jr., from the United States for the alleged purpose of evading the draft, was ended yesterday when Federal Judge G. W. Jack, on motion of defense counsel, instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty for the reason that the indictment had not been brought within the three-year period required by the statute of limitations. Judge Jack also ordered a verdict of not guilty in the case against the

$75,000 OF PROCTOR PROPERTY RECOVERED BY DAYTON POLICE

Greater Part of Loot Taken in Last Week's Robbery at Cincinnati
Is Located.

By the Associated Press.
DAYTON, O., Dec. 7.—Approximately $75,000 worth of jewelry, said to be a part of the $100,000 haul made by four bandits from the residence of William Cooper Proctor at Cincinnati a week ago, was recovered by police here yesterday. Two men were arrested and are declared by the police to have confessed to participation in the robbery, in which Mrs. Proctor was forced to open a safe and then was locked in the cellar.

The two men under arrest are known to police as Victor Bellou and Peter Velker. Both are said to have criminal records. The recovered jewelry was found hidden in Bellou's home, police said, when they entered and found him asleep.

Bellou and Velker were taken to Cincinnati last night, when Bellou expressed a desire to "see Mr. Proctor and tell him the story." Proctor had offered a reward of $20,000 for the arrest of the bandits and recovery of the jewels.

BALLOT IN BUILDING
WAGE REFERENDUM
READY FOR PRINTER

Tickets to Be Distributed
Among Unions Next Week
—Sentiment on Wage Cut
to Be Known by Jan. 1.

FORM AGREED UPON
AT CONFERENCE

Bricklayers and Plasterers,
Not Affiliated With the Council, to Be Asked to Vote Also.

The ballot for the referendum vote of the unions affiliated with the Building Trades Council, to determine if the building craftsmen will accept a wage reduction of 20 per cent from the prevailing basic wage of $1.25 an hour, will be sent to the printer today and distributed among the unions next week. The bricklayers and plasterers' unions, who are not affiliated with the council, will also receive the ballots with a request to vote. It is expected that the unions will have all voted within three weeks and that their decision will be known by Jan. 1.

The ballots will be sent only to affiliated mechanics who are receiving wages. Those who are receiving less than $1.25 an hour, or who are not working in the building trades, will not vote. The two proposals determined yesterday at a meeting of the joint committee of representatives of the Building Trades Association and the Building Trades Council, which have been holding weekly conferences on the wage question since Nov. 8, when the Post-Dispatch published an exhaustive survey of the situation showing that building projects aggregating $10,000,000 were being held up by high costs, chiefly of labor and materials.

Two Proposals on Ballot.
Two propositions are to be voted on—a reduction of wages of 20 per cent and new contracts with the individual unions. The two proposals will be set out on the ballot as follows:

1. Are you in favor of a reduction in wages of 20 per cent? Yes or No.
2. Are you in favor of new agreements with your employers as recommended by the Master Builders' Association? Yes or No.

Attached to the ballot will be a letter containing proposals covering the ground that was recently submitted to the Building Trades Council by the Master Builders. These proposals are:

1. A voluntary reduction in the present wage scale which would be generally a decrease from $1.25 to $1 an hour.
2. The new scale to become effective Jan. 1, 1922, and continue until March 1, 1923.

Other proposals submitted. Before March 1, 1922, new agreements are to be entered into to operate until March 1, 1923. All new agreements shall be as nearly uniform as possible and shall contain the scale of wages to be paid and the working conditions and rules.

Such crafts as have already accepted a decrease in wages and those crafts that did not receive their proper quota of advance in wage, a revised scale commensurate with the reduction recommended for those men receiving $1.25 an hour shall be established by a workable committee of workmen and employers' representatives.

It is also set forth that, as fundaments, the proposed new agreements shall embody certain principles already affirmed by the Building Trades Council, which deal with working conditions.

JOBS FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—An appeal to employers to give advance Christmas presents to former service men in the form of jobs was sent broadcast last night by William F. Deegan, State commander of the American Legion.

"With the Christmas spirit in the air," Commander Deegan said, "with discouragement and despair prevalent, I urge patriotic citizens to make it a custom to give Christmas presents to those buddies who are fighting for employment and for the disabled buddies who are still fighting for compensation."

600 Troops Home From Germany.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The first detachment of American troops to be sent home from the army of occupation in Germany, consisting of 21 officers and 600 men, arrived here late yesterday on the transport Carlsberg. Accompanying the soldiers were 15 former service men whose enlistment had expired, and a number of army nurses and civilian employees. The ship's best accommodations were occupied by German-born wives of American soldiers and eight Rhine babies.

"What of the Modern Girl?"

Woman Who Has Studied Girls in Industry Says Criticisms of Elinor Glyn Do Not Apply to Any One Class.

By MARGUERITE MARTIN.

FOR comment upon the criticisms of the modern young woman as these criticisms apply to the girl in industry, I consulted Mrs. Harry C. January as an authority. As executive secretary for Missouri of the Consumers' League, Mrs. January has long been in close touch with conditions affecting the girl who works in factories, stores and offices. From this experience she has, more recently, been called by the Young Women's Christian Association to head its industrial committee.

The criticisms are just in their application to any number of girls, Mrs. January agreed, "but certainly not to girls of any one class," she insisted. "You cannot separate girls into classes and say this fault is peculiar to one group and that to another. You cannot say that every girl who belongs to the Junior League is actuated at all times and in all places by the motives of high, unselfish endeavor to which she subscribes upon joining that group. Likewise, you cannot say certain virtues or faults are peculiar to all girls who work in factories. Each girl is a separate personality. To say that she is a Junior League girl or a factory girl, does not describe her personality.

"You will find just as much variety, as many of all the virtues of courage, of capacity, of high endeavor, of initiative, of inventiveness among a group of industrial girls as you will find in many groups whose advantages have been unlimited. They are just as plastic, just as capable of development, these girls who work with their hands. I could name a thousand instances of culture among them, girls who for some compelling reason are bound to some monotonous task, but who have made amazing progress at educating themselves. I discovered in one of my industrial girl friends whom I met at the Art Museum on a Sunday morning, the last time I was there, an unusual appreciation of the exhibition then on view. She made me appreciate many of the somewhat involved and obscure beauties of the works that had escaped me.

Meanwhile there were other girls sauntering about, university girls, possibly, chattering and giggling, fussing with their hair, puffing.

Aspiration for learning, appreciation of the arts, are not rare among working girls. On the other hand, the flapper exists in all grades of society.

And it is the flapper who is calling down the criticism, we agreed. What wonder her type strikes the casual observer as being far more general than it is, since the flapper does everything to make herself conspicuous. And yet all these faults that are enumerated cannot be said to apply alone to the flapper, either," remarked Mrs. January, referring to the Elinor Glyn catalogue of criticisms. "The college girl may smoke a cigarette and at the same time be engaged upon something very elevating. It isn't always fair to generalize, and selecting the phase that appeals to me, I should say it is the grandmother of the flapper who is chiefly responsible for the development of this young animal. Too many older women have lost their powers of responsibility, and it is the fault of the women who first let the old requirements in manners and customs. They may not have meant anything, the old airs and graces; they may have been discarded in favor of more sincere standards; nevertheless the formalities were safeguards against familiarity. And while there may be no evil in familiarity, customs of familiarity do develop into evil where no evil is intended. I do not believe in the evil in these young things. Few of them set out to be evil. The majority of them know where to draw the line. But if it were not for all this familiarity, the lack of chaperonage, this pawing of each other, this apparent lack of restraint, there would be fewer occasions to draw the line. I think it deplorable that the old airs of courtesy and deference are abandoned."

Back of it all, going into the fundamental cause, Mrs. January observed: "The trouble is poverty of mind due to poverty of spirit. We do not all of us know enough to enjoy the really good things of life. The good is not attractive, whereas, as Phillips Brooks wrote long ago, 'enjoying life is not a question of being good, but of being not good enough. We like to seem sophisticated from knowing all about evil. We are not. We are passing through the butterfly stage, and are not yet arrived at the real life.'

Mrs. January made two trips to Europe since the war, investigating its effects upon conditions in industry. The flapper is another effect of the war, she observes. "Women dared to do so many things they had not done before to help with the war," said she. "So many women were suddenly detached from their homes or thrust into altogether strange environments, and that has had resulted in such a content of rivalry among young women. This is accountable for the clothes and makeup of the flapper. Each woman is trying to attract attention to herself. 'Look at me,' she virtually says, as she attempts to break the record in the shortness of her skirt. The wildness of her hair and the wildness of her fashions really originate overseas."

There were these and many other contributing causes to all these tendencies that are undesirable in our young girls that she could enumerate, she said, but she went back to repeat and emphasize her assertion that it is the older women, the surrender of old requirements of deference and courtesy, that is chiefly accountable for the laxity that is to be deplored.

"When I was young my grandmother said to me, 'You must not accept all the invitations you receive. You must not be seen everywhere. You must hold yourself in reserve. You must select the most desirable friends.' Nowadays there are older women who are saying to the younger ones, 'Get all the invitations you can. Be popular. Advertise. You are young but once. Have a good time.' And so, solid old standards are dispensed with in favor of the ephemeral."

family, Yowler takes a wetting. He was now thoroughly wet and had nothing to show for it. No anner Cat ever lived. So he screamed. Yes, sir, he screamed. Then he waded ashore and shook himself, all the time spitting and snarling and growling. He was in a terrible temper, was Yowler the Bob Cat. He knew that Paddy had been watching and had seen the danger of those Geese. He couldn't see Paddy, for Paddy had dived and come up in the middle of the pond, knowing that he was the safest place for them. They didn't stop to ask questions; there would be time enough for that later.

Now, Yowler the Bob Cat hadn't seen Paddy. His eyes had been fixed on the two Geese which had drifted in very close to the shore. He had gathered his feet under him ready to spring. The sudden noise of Paddy's tail on the water startled him for just an instant, and in that instant those two Geese had awakened and begun to swim out in a hurry. Then Yowler sprang with all his might. But he was just too late. His claws just touching the tail feathers of the nearest Goose. He landed with only a wetting for his long wait. Now, like all members of the Cat

Paddy didn't say a word. Those dreadful things didn't trouble him. He knew that they had tried his best many times to catch him and hadn't been smart enough to. He didn't believe that Yowler would be any danger to him in the future, so he didn't worry. Yowler couldn't possibly be any more of an enemy than he always had been. So Paddy simply forgot about the whole thing and went on with his life.

Finally, still snarling and spitting, Yowler went off to the Green Forest, for he knew that it would be useless to try for a dinner of five young Geese again that night. Honker swam over to Paddy's house. "I'm much obliged to you, Paddy," said he. "I won't forget what you have done for me this night."

"Don't mention it," replied Paddy. "You would do as much for me. Things of this kind are what friendship is for."

And for the remainder of that night there was peace and quiet in the pond of Paddy the Beaver.

How to Hold Your Husband

HUSBAND WIFE

AFTER YOU GET

HIM HER

Dr. Simon Katsoff Gives "Ten Commandments"—Advocates "School for Prospective Brides."

By RUTH SNYDER.

"How shall I hold my husband after I get him?"

These are questions all prospective brides and grooms should ask themselves. But do they? Dr. Simon Katsoff, Bridgeport psychoanalyst, is advocating a school for brides—and his study course has been entitled, "How to Hold a Husband After You Get Him." It is the woman's fault, according to this doctor, that matrimonial ventures so often prove to be failures. She has not learned the divine gift of silence. He is opinion that mothers and fathers are merely parents, not "pals" of their daughters. They make home so dreary that girls marry to escape. Sometimes they attract attention to themselves by the first matrimonial net.

Dr. Andre Tridon, celebrated psychoanalyst of 121 Madison avenue, New York City, does not agree with Dr. Katsoff. He believes that he has placed the blame too exclusively on women for matrimonial shipwrecks. Men and women share equally the responsibility when things go wrong. He thinks, or rather both are the victims of an old superstition that women are "different."

"The women who believe that women are different will use that belief as an excuse for all kinds of absurd behavior," declares Dr. Tridon. "The man who believes that women are different misunderstands everything they do."

While Katsoff sees the need of a school for brides, Dr. Tridon thinks it is necessary to have a school for husbands. Dr. Katsoff has advanced 10 commandments or precepts upon which he would base the curriculum of his novel school. Here are Dr. Tridon's 10 commandments which he would have all prospective husbands memorize before allowing them to go and get the license.

Here are Dr. Simon Katsoff's 10 commandments for prospective brides: Read them over carefully:

1. Love. Above all things, you must love the man you would marry. Marriage should be based upon love, not social position, or wealth, or artificial or temporal advantages.

2. Freedom. You must give your husband freedom to go and come when he pleases—he will go less and stay in more.

3. Endearing terms. This includes gentleness of manner. Saying "John, dear," instead of "John, Roman," being to say "Thanks, dear," for the frequency of its use is the measure of a husband's stupidity and failure.

4. You shall be as nice to your wife and as appreciative of her as you would expect of your friend's wife, and as courteous to her as you would be to a new customer.

5. You shall not, since you are your wife's ideal, inspiration and support, be a source of worry, disappointment, dishwashing, and sundry household chores so long as you yourself manifest such unwillingness to help with them.

6. You shall not object on "moral grounds" to your wife's low neck gown, short skirt, flesh-colored stockings, face powder and lip rouge, for she knows very well that you are simply jealous and envious. If you are not, you will feel flattered if your jealousy is not coupled with hypocritical pretense, nor shall you mention her age in connection with any display of vanity.

7. You shall not call your wife fickle when she is no longer in love with your old bath slippers, your slouchy clothes, your chin stubble, your bad pate, your convex stomach and your stogie breath, but you shall consider the first photo of yourself you gave her and realize that you have changed.

8. You shall always bear in mind that if you don't someone else will.

9. They are in black and white—ten good commandments for bride and groom. It's up to you to live up to them.

CAPTER XLIX.

A Forced Interview.

LOCKED in the privacy of her own room after her escape from Miss Henderson, Nancy turned herself on the bed and buried her burning face in the pillows. Suppose that what Miss Henderson said was true! Downstairs Nancy had called it impossible, ridiculous, now she trembled at the thought and hated herself for the mad beating of her heart.

Suppose Bruce did care for her; suppose he had crushed her in his arms last night because he had wanted her and for no other baser reason! Suppose his treatment of her had been due to his struggle against this caring for her, this thing that had leaped unbidden into his life. It was improbable, but not entirely impossible. And did he want him to care? This mad singing of her blood, this ecstatic leap of her pulses answered that question only too well. She did want him to care, but never in all the world would she give in to this feeling. Her pride would forbid such a thing. She would never admit the truth even if such a thing happened to be true, and she doubted it. But she found herself dallying with the thought to the exclusion of everything else. What was to be the end of all this, and why had she ever accepted the position in the first place? The reason that had prompted her arrival at Rock Haven the emotion that Alvin Reed had awakened in her seemed like a dream. Alvin himself had receded to a shadow figure in her life, and it seemed strange to remember that he had ever caused her a pang of unhappiness.

"I wanted to talk to you and knowing that you would ignore any message I might send you, I had to resort to waylaying you."

Nancy maintained a discreet silence; she did not even give the impression of having heard what he said, and her very restraint, now maddening to this man who had always had what he wanted.

He strode across the room and caught her up against him roughly. "Did you think I would let you go without this?" he said fiercely. "Did you think I would let you defy me again and again without making you pay? These moments I have held you in my arms are my revenge, and you will never forget them."

Before she knew what was happening she was in his room and he had closed the door and was leaning against it.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

YOWLER MAKES DREADFUL THREATS

There's nothing he discovered yet
So silly as an idle threat.

—Paddy the Beaver

NOT even the bang of a terrible gun is more startling than the unexpected sound of the broad tail of Paddy the Beaver hitting the water when he slips it down with all his might. And this is the way he had slipped it down when he had made up his mind that two of the sleeping flock of Honker the Goose had drifted dangerously near the shore.

Geese, like all the other people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, are wide awake the instant they open their eyes. They are just as wide awake as if they had not been asleep at all. They have to be, for otherwise they would be almost sure to lose their lives. So the instant Paddy awakened Honker and his flock they were wide awake and started swimming for the middle of the pond, knowing that he was the safest place for them. They didn't stop to ask questions; there would be time enough for that later.

Now, Yowler the Bob Cat hadn't seen Paddy. His eyes had been fixed on the two Geese which had drifted in very close to the shore. He had gathered his feet under him ready to spring. Then Yowler sprang with all his might. But he was just too late. His claws just touching the tail feathers of the nearest Goose. He landed with only a wetting for his long wait. Now, like all members of the Cat

Paddy didn't say a word. Those dreadful things didn't trouble him. He knew that they had tried his best many times to catch him and hadn't been smart enough to. He didn't believe that Yowler would be any danger to him in the future, so he didn't worry. Yowler couldn't possibly be any more of an enemy than he always had been. So Paddy simply forgot about the whole thing and went on with his life.

Finally, still snarling and spitting, Yowler went off to the Green Forest, for he knew that it would be useless to try for a dinner of five young Geese again that night. Honker swam over to Paddy's house. "I'm much obliged to you, Paddy," said he. "I won't forget what you have done for me this night."

"Don't mention it," replied Paddy. "You would do as much for me. Things of this kind are what friendship is for."

And for the remainder of that night there was peace and quiet in the pond of Paddy the Beaver.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

IN A PINCH.

THE desire for the luxuries of life is perfectly natural. It would be a barren world that provided only food, clothing and shelter.

To a person of sympathy, the purchase of a phonograph with money given to a poor family for clothes is understandable. The craving for pleasure is inborn. And the poor, usually denied it, really have more need of a little of it now and then than the rich. Every man is entitled to some of the luxuries of life, if he can earn them.

The automobile has brought infinite pleasure and a great deal of valuable education to many families of very ordinary means. The moving-picture theater has opened an avenue of employment to thousands, and if it is kept clean will do more good than many unused libraries.

But while you are enjoying such luxuries as you feel that you need, it is well to know just how many of them you can dispense with. Every man is safe if he knows what he can do in a pinch.

If he has figured with care exactly what he would do if a sudden change in his circumstances compelled a drastic reduction in expenses, he can face the future with no fears.

This is something that is worth thinking about. It is worth while to take a pencil and paper and see exactly what you could live on in a pinch.

An opportunity may come to go into business—provided you have a certain sum of money. You can get that money by reducing your expenses if you know how to reduce them.

Better think and plan that out now. Better also think what you would do in case sickness, or any trouble swept away what you have saved, or plunged you into debt. Do not deny yourself the luxuries of life. But plan how to get along without them if you have to.

Then when hard times come—if they do—you can take them philosophically, feeling that by getting along temporarily on the bare necessities of life, you will be able to weather the storm till it blows itself out.

MISS MARION STRAIN.JACKS' BURIAL RECALLS
CHAMP CLARK ANECDOTE

Former Speaker Told in Autobiography How Feud With Editor Ended in Church.

One of the late Champ Clark's favorite stories, that of his enmity to and reconciliation with John W. Jacks of Montgomery City, Mo., has been recalled by the death of Jacks, veteran editor of the Montgomery Standard, whose funeral was held today. Jacks for several years held an important clerical position in the House of Representatives in Washington.

In his autobiography, "My Quarter Century of American Politics," Clark related that in 1892, when he was contesting for the nomination for Congress with Richard Norton of Lincoln County, he came to St. Louis and appealed to the editor of the St. Louis Republic to give him a square deal. Clark's reason for this appeal was his fear that Jacks, who was the Republic's correspondent at Montgomery City, would color matters in Norton's favor. Clark and Jacks were then not on speaking terms.

"I met Jacks and I was long since reconciled," Clark wrote. "In the autumn of 1892, I traveled over my district, looking into postoffice squabbles. One Sunday afternoon I reached Montgomery City, and was told that Rev. Noah Dale would preach that night in the Christian Church. I had known him in Kentucky when I was a boy. He had been very kind to my sister, and had been instrumental in getting her into Midway Female College, where she obtained a good education. So, with some friends, I went to the church before the service began.

"I sat down by the box stove and was engaged in conversation, when Col. Jacks, an elder in that church, as I am an elder in the Bowling Green Christian Church—came in. He walked down to the pulpit platform, where he deposited his overcoat and hat. Then he looked around and saw me. He stood there three or four minutes, pulling his long chin whiskers, which he has since shaved off, and walked back to where I was sitting, and offered his hand, which I took gladly—thus ending in happy manner the feud between us twain.

"I have often wondered what was passing in the mind of Col. Jacks while he was pulling his whiskers. My guess is that he was considering what his Christian duty in the premises. At any rate, he did it. For more than a year he has been journal clerk of the House, by my appointment."

tending, there was distributed to each a thin cross section of rail bound in brass for use as a paper weight, cut from the first rail laid. More than 100 tons of such rails were cut into 370,000 slices for this purpose.

The first locomotive used in Japan, with types of other early equipment, was placed on a nearby track as part of the celebration. The celebration showing that in 1921 there were 8500 miles of railway in Japan proper and 11,400 miles counting the lines in South Saghalien, Korea, Formosa and South Manchuria.

LASHANSKA SINGS IN
ACRID FOG AT ODEONSoprano Doesn't Regain Full
Use of Voice Until Final Group of Program.

A bituminous miasma swirled into the Odeon last night, poisoning every throat, and particularly that of Mrs. Hilda Lashanska, who was seeking to give a recital. She can scarcely be said to have recovered free use of her voice until the last of her four groups of songs.

Then she sang prettily enough, as in two interesting ditties by her accompanist, Werner Josten, and Dvorak's familiar "Songs My Mother Taught Me." Though the last was done in English, it proved impossible, on a test, without looking at the program, to understand the enunciation of the words, except the last line. The singer corrected the poet's grammar in another song to make a line read: "But pirate dreams will take baby and boat and I," for "But pirate dreams will take baby and boat and I."

today who has a greater power of personal appeal or who is a greater master in the art of presenting ideas, facts and arguments than Woodrow Wilson. As his secretary for nearly 11 years, I was often vexed because he did not, to use a newspaper phrase, "play up" better, but he was always averse to doing anything that seemed artificially contrived to win applause. Under my own eyes, seated in the White House offices, I have witnessed many a great story walk in and out, but the President always admonished us that such things must not be pictured or capitalized in any way for political purposes; and thus my attempt we made to dramatize him as Col. Roosevelt's friend and ally of the Confederation of the United States.

INTERESTING STORIES ILLUSTRATING HUMAN SIDE OF WILSON

good nature, and the big, vigorous, lovable personality of Mr. Taft, put the staid, simple, modest, retiring personality of the New Jersey President, Mr. Wilson, at a tremendous disadvantage. Into the atmosphere created by these winning personalities of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft, the personality of Mr. Wilson did not easily fit, and he realized it when he said to me one day, "Furness, you must realize that I am not built for the dramatic things of politics. I do not want to be displayed before the public, and if I tried it, I should do it badly."

Without attempting to belittle the great achievements of former Presidents of the United States, particularly Roosevelt, it is only fair to say that, comparing the situations which confronted them with those that met President Wilson from the very beginning of his incumbency, their jobs were small. As a general Irishman once said to me, "Hell broke loose when Wilson took hold." Every unusual thing, every extraordinary thing, seemed to break, and break against him. From the happening of the Dayton flood, which occurred in the early days of the Wilson administration, down to the moment when he laid down the reins of office, it seemed as if the world which we lived was at the point of revolution. Unusual, unprecedented and remarkable things began to happen, things that required all the patience, indomitable courage and tenacity of the President to hold them steady. The Mexican situation, left on our doorstep, was one of the great burdens that he carried during his administration. Then came the fight for the revision of the tariff, the establishment of the Federal Reserve System, all items that constituted the great program of domestic reform which emanated from the brain of Woodrow Wilson, and then in the midst of it all came the European war, the necessity for neutrality, the criticism which was heaped upon the President for every unusual happening which his critics seemed to think called for intervention of the United States in this great cataclysm. It was not a time for the camaraderie and good-fellowship that had characterized the good, old knightly days in which Mr. Roosevelt served as President.

Work Without Recreation.

And yet no man was less exclusive in dealing with the members of the Senate and House. In preparing the Federal Reserve act in collaboration with Senator Glass, he was constantly in touch with the members of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, in an endeavor to make clear the road for the passage of this important piece of constructive legislation. Constant demands were made upon his time, and he gave of his energy and of the small reserve of strength that he had, uncomplainingly and without a protest. No rest, no recreation, no vacation intervened. Every measure that he sought to press to enactment was the challenge to a great fight, as, for instance, the tariff, the currency, the railroads, the Panama tolls, etc.

I have often been asked whether anger or passion ever showed itself in the President, and I am reminded of a little incident that happened at the White House during one of those conferences with the newspaper men, which, before the days of the war, and for a long time afterward, took place in the Executive offices. At the time of this particular conference the President's first wife lay seriously ill at the White House, and stories were carried in the various newspapers exaggerating the nature of her illness, some of them going so far as to say she was suffering from this or that disease. At the very time these stories were appearing in the newspapers there were also articles that his daughter Margaret was engaged to marry this man or that man. The President came to the newspaper men's conference this morning fighting mad. It was plain that something serious was afoot. Taking hold of the back of the chair, as if to strengthen himself for what he had to say, he looked squarely at the newspaper men and said: "I hope that you gentlemen will pardon me for a personal word this morning. I have read the stories that have appeared in certain newspapers of the country, containing outrageous statements about the illness of my wife and the marriage of my daughter. I realize that, as President of the United States, you have a perfect right to say anything you damn please about me, for I am a man, and I defend myself. I know that while I am President it will be my portion to receive all kinds of unfair criticism, and I would be a poor sport if I could not stand up under it; but there are some things, gentlemen, that I will not tolerate. You must let my family alone, for they are not public property. I acquit every man in this room of responsibility for these stories. I know that you have had nothing to do with them; but you have feelings and I have feelings, even though I am President. My daughter has no brother to defend her, but she has me, and I want to say to you that if those stories ever appear again I will leave the White House and thrash the man who dares to utter them."

A little letter came to my notice in which the President replied to an old friend in Massachusetts who had asked him to attempt to interpret himself:

My Dear Friend:

You have placed an impossible task upon me—that of interpreting myself to you. All I can say in answer to your inquiry is that I have a sincere desire to serve, to be of some little assistance in improving the condition of the average man, to lift him up, and to make his life more tolerable, agreeable and comfortable. In doing this I try hard to purge my heart of selfish motives. It will only be known when I am dead whether or not I have succeeded.

Sincerely,
WOODROW WILSON

That he grew more humble every day and less sure that he knew "the whole thing" was evidenced by the following letter:

The White House,
Dec. 30, 1914.

My Dear Senator:

Thank you very warmly for your gracious letter written on my birthday.

As for my own feelings, I can assure you that I do not feel as I should like to feel, that my wisdom grows with my years. I think that anyone who finds himself in my present situation, face to face with so many questions of capital importance, must, if he has any sense at all, grow more humble every day and less sure that he "knows the whole thing."

With best wishes and sincere appreciation,
Cordially and sincerely yours,
WOODROW WILSON.

THE CHILDREN AT CHRISTMAS TIME

The mother of these four children says that she has used Father John's Medicine for the past twenty years and in cases of severe colds she believes it has no equal. In a recent letter she said, "I have used Father John's Medicine for twenty years. I knew of its value and used it long before I was married. I have given it to all of my four children and for croup and severe colds I think it is very good." (Signed) Mrs. Rose G. Kuffe, White Plains, N. Y.

Millions of mothers depend on Father John's Medicine to keep their children well and strong and to restore their strength after any illness. They know that it has had more than 65 years of success for colds and coughs and as a tonic and body builder.

FINE GIFTS OF PLATINUM GOLD SILVER

Bolland's approval is given to none but those creations in Jewelry of platinum, gold and silver that are superlative in design and craftsmanship.

If you seek a platinum bracelet, bar pin or watch, you will find it here, of the highest quality, of the truly exclusive design and of the finest workmanship.

If you seek a gift of gold, you will be interested in the great variety of lovely things just as wonderful in scope and merit as those of platinum.

If it is something required in silver, you will be impressed with the evidence of good taste, the unusual designs and the obvious care in making.

If, therefore, you desire that which is modest in price but rich in quality, you will find it companionably shown along with the radiant and sumptuous.

To all who wish to purchase the finer gifts this store welcomes you with well-chosen merchandise and plainly marked prices. Whatever is here is the best and cannot be bought of the same quality and with the same service for less money. The interest taken in your inquiry will be equally great whether you conclude to buy or not.

Railroad Fares Refunded in Accordance With the Plan of the St. Louis Associated Retailers

Clear the tracks!

Now you are your own train dispatcher—you can be engineer, conductor, too

HERE'S everything you need to make up a miniature transcontinental railway system. Here it is set up for worlds of fun. The big electric locomotives that haul Lionel trains pull from three to twenty cars fast or slow, backward or forward just as you wish. Lionel systems are controlled by a switch at your hand.

Lionel outfits are wonderful sport all the year round. Indoors in the winter time you can rush the trains over switches, swing the semaphores to change signals, light up the stations, cars, street lamps—all from an ordinary lighting socket. In warmer weather you can build trestles and cuts, run across ditches over real bridges out in the yard—boy, but it's the real thing!

Lionel trains have been the standard of the world for twenty-one years. They are made entirely of steel and are fully guaranteed. All cars are enameled by hand and baked like automobile bodies. Lionel transformers, with plug to attach to light socket, are approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Perfect safety at practically no current cost is insured. Trains also run on batteries.

Lionel Electric Railroads are made in America. Ordinary trains may be imitations of the sturdy Lionel construction. They cannot keep running with the long, satisfactory life guaranteed by Lionel perfect workmanship.

Get Mother or Dad to come with you to the Toy Department at Scruggs-Vandercoot-Barney. See these trains run. Look them over carefully and see how well built they are. Here's how to make this Christmas the biggest you ever had.

LUMBER WITNESS MAKES AFFIDAVIT

No Intention to Charge Boeckeler Company With Giving Short Measure.

William H. Putnam, of the W. H. Putnam Lumber Co., who was a defense witness in the hearing Dec. 1 of the dissolution suit of Attorney General Barrett against the St. Louis Lumber Trade Exchange, and who testified that four local lumber dealers had resorted to irregular business methods several years ago, has since made affidavit that it was not his intention to infer that the Boeckeler Lumber Co., mentioned in his testimony, had ever resorted to sharp practices in the sale of lumber.

Putnam, in the affidavit, says that in his testimony he did not state directly, nor did he intend to infer, that he knew of any particular instance where the Boeckeler Company had given short measure at any time. Commenting on Putnam's testimony, Henry A. Boeckeler, secretary of the Boeckeler Company, who has been connected with that concern for 16 years, said his company never had delivered short measure of lumber or material to any purchaser, adding that it had always given full measure.

The Boeckeler Company is a member of the Lumber Trade Exchange, against which the suit was instituted, and Boeckeler said he did not know of an instance where the exchange had ever countenanced dishonesty in dealing with the trade. Several witnesses for the defense have testified that previous to the formation of the exchange some dealers gave short measure and others substituted inferior grades of lumber, and that the exchange was formed chiefly to eliminate these evils for the protection of the public and the honest dealer.

FIVE PERSONS INJURED, TWO SERIOUSLY, IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Chauffeur of Ladder Truck Responding to False Alarm Badly Hurt in Collision.

Frank Vincent, 33 years old, of 3152 A Miami street, chauffeur of Hook and Ladder Truck No. 16, was seriously injured, and Mrs. Charles Preyer, 56, of 3441 Hamberger avenue, slightly hurt, at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when the truck collided with an automobile driven by Arthur Francis of 5003 Gravois avenue, with whom Mrs. Preyer was riding while the truck was responding to a false alarm and proceeding east in Gravois avenue near Chippewa street.

Miss Mabel Perry, 20, of 716 North Sarah street, suffered a probable fracture of the arm at 4 p. m. when an automobile driven by William Ferri, a builder, of 5844 Enright avenue, with whom she was riding, collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. Albert Boettler of 5921 Waterman avenue, at Skinker road and Forsythe boulevard.

Helen Wandel, 5, of 2923 Delmar boulevard, and Elizabeth Meinhardt, 9, of 2944 Delmar boulevard, were injured at 1 p. m. when knocked down by an automobile driven by Guy A. Turner of 4922 A Laclede avenue, an automobile mechanic, as he passed through an alley between Washington avenue and Olive street crossing Culver Way.

SCIENTIST SAYS RADIUM WILL STRIP CANCER OF ITS TERRORS

President of Radiological Society Tells of Development of Treatment.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Cancer will soon lose its terror, in the opinion of a hundred scientists gathered here in advance of the seventh annual meeting of the Radiological Society of North America, which begins here today.

Radium and the X-ray are the agencies through which cancer will be subdued, according to Dr. Alden H. Williams of Grand Rapids, president of the organization. Mechanical application of the radium and X-ray curative properties will be demonstrated during the four days of the meeting which is to be attended by noted French and German scientists. Discussing the radium treatments, Dr. Williams asserted that apparatus has now been developed to such power that the rooms in which it is used must be protected with leaden walls half an inch or more in thickness to prevent the emanations of the radium and the rays from damaging adjoining rooms or persons in them.

JESSE L. CARLETON DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

President of Missouri State Golf Association Succumbs Late at Night to Cerebral Hemorrhage.

Jesse L. Carleton, 59 years old, secretary of the Carleton Dry Goods Co., died suddenly at 11:10 o'clock last night at his home, 454 Lake avenue, from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Carleton was at his office yesterday, but complained in the afternoon of not feeling well and went home at 4 o'clock. Between 7 and 8 o'clock he became worse and complained of a feeling of numbness. He retired to his room. Shortly afterward he called his wife and spoke to her for a time and then lost the power of speech, lapsing into unconsciousness.

Carleton was a golfer of note and had taken part in many championship tournaments. He was president of the Missouri State Golf Association for three years. He was formerly president of the Sunset Hill Country Club, holding that office for three years, and was a member of several other clubs.

He was born in Cumberland, Md., coming to St. Louis when 20 years old. He obtained a position with the J. H. Wear-Hougher Dry Goods Co., which later became the Carleton Dry Goods Co.

The widow and a daughter, Mrs. Houghton Hodgecock, who was married two weeks ago, and three brothers, Murray Carleton, president of the dry goods company; Will Carleton, also of St. Louis, and Hope Carleton, Cumberland, Md., and a sister, Mrs. William Smouse of Cumberland, survive.

The funeral arrangements will not be completed until the arrival of Murray Carleton, who has been visiting in Cumberland.

WOMAN DIES OF GAS POISONING

Neighbor Finds Body of Mrs. Terrence in Bathroom of Home. Mrs. Anna Terrence, 42 years old, of 625A South Boyle avenue, was found dead in the bathroom of her home at 4 p. m. yesterday by Mrs. Mary Nelson, 622 South Boyle avenue, who traced the odor of escaping gas to her neighbor's home. Mrs. Terrence was lying on the floor, with her head resting on the round of a chair in front of a gas heater, which was turned on. The door and window in the room were closed.

Mrs. Nelson told the police she talked with Mrs. Terrence at 10 a. m. and said that Mrs. Terrence told her at that time: "You will find me dead with the gas turned on some of these days."

Mrs. Terrence suffered from asthma and told Mrs. Nelson she was unable to bear the suffering.

BOY VICTIM OF ALCOHOLISM

Jefferson School Pupil Says He Was Induced to Take Drinks.

Paul Delucco, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Delucco of 806A Middle street, was taken from the Jefferson School, Ninth and Wash streets, to the city hospital yesterday suffering from alcoholism. The boy's teacher called the police to the school after she had reported finding the boy in an apparent stupor. The boy, after being somewhat revived, told the police he had met a negro boy in an alley near the school and had been induced to take a drink from a bottle. A woman near the school also, he said, had called him on to her porch and had given him a drink from one of half a dozen jugs on the porch. He was unable to point out the house to the police.

Kaiser's Son-in-Law Is "Broke"

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Dec. 7.—The Duke of Brunswick, the former Kaiser's only son-in-law, is suing the state of Brunswick for 1,200,000 marks with the interest which has accrued since the revolution, claiming that he has not received a penny from his estates, although an annuity of 400,000 marks was agreed upon. The Duke complains that he is unable any longer to pay his living expenses unless he receives the stipulated amount.

Expected Trade Of Heine Groh to Giants Announced

George Burns, Veteran Outfielder, and Mike Gonzales, Catcher, Go to Cincinnati.

MANAGERS OPPOSED DEAL

Plans Were Laid to Attempt to Block It at League Meeting Next Week.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The expected announcement that Heine Groh, third baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, had been traded to the New York Giants, came yesterday. It was announced by Secretary Joseph O'Brien of the world's champions that Manager McGraw had sent George Burns, the veteran outfielder, and Mike Gonzales, catcher, to Cincinnati for the signing third baseman.

O'Brien asserted that he had been authorized to make the announcement of the club, who, he said, had been in communication with McGraw over the telephone. O'Brien further stated that as far as he knew there was no such consideration in connection with the trade.

The announcement that Groh was a full-fledged member of the Giants has been expected since last summer, when a deal for the far-corner guard was blocked by Judge Landis. At that time Groh was a holdout and openly asserted that he wanted to go to New York. According to rumors at that time the trade had been completed, but Judge Landis stepped in, suspended Groh, and announced that Groh would "play with Cincinnati or remain out of baseball."

Managers Opposed Trade.
Managers of the various National League clubs were opposed to the trade that would send Groh to the New York team, and it was intended to get up a fight against the deal at the National League meeting here next week. The rival leaders figured that with Groh on the Giants' roster, the club would be too strong.

With Groh at third base for the Giants next season the local N. L. team will have just about the best infield in the Heydler circuit. With Groh on the club it will necessitate the shifting of Frank Frisch, the Redman flash, to second base, a position he can cover as acceptably as third. Frisch started his major league career as a second baseman. Dave Brainerd and George Kelly will play the other positions on the Giants' inner works.

Following the signing of Groh's suspension by Commissioner Landis last season, Groh played in 97 games in the Reds, batted .331 and fielded .96.

Second Chance With Giants.
This will not be Groh's first chance with the Giants. McGraw originally owned Groh when he came from the minor leagues, being obtained from the Decatur club of the Three-Eye League in 1911. However, he did not play any games, being sent to Buffalo. The next two years he was with the Giants, and then, in 1914, was traded to the Reds. Groh is 31 years old.

Outfielder George Burns, who goes to the Reds, was one of the veterans of the New York club. He was obtained by McGraw from the Utica club in 1912 and has been a regular with the New Yorkers ever since. Last season Burns hit .298 and scored 472 in 149 games. During the campaign Burns was shifted by McGraw from his regular position in left field to center. Burns was left field in 1919.

Mike Gonzales, the other Giant to be in the trade, is a former Cardinal catcher. He did not get much work with the Giants last season. Smith and Snyder doing the bulk of the backstopping. Gonzales has been in the major leagues since 1914, when he was in 95 games with Cincinnati.

GROH PLEASED WITH TRANSFER TO GIANTS

By the Associated Press.
RAYMOND, Dec. 7.—Heine Groh, Cincinnati third baseman, expressed pleasure when told that he had been traded to the Giants.

"The news is as gratifying as it is surprising," he said. "I'm certainly anxious for the season to open, and you can be sure I'll do my best."

Gonzales, whose home is here, said, "I do my share to win a pennant for the Reds."

McGRAW REFUSES TO CONFIRM GROH DEAL

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Although the definite announcement was given at the New York office of the National League team last night that a deal had been closed with the Cincinnati Reds, whereby Groh would be a Giant uniform next season, Manager McGraw declined to add his confirmation.

McGraw also refused to confirm or deny a report that a cash consideration of $100,000 went with Outfielder Burns and Gonzales in the trade for Groh.

George Burns Surprised.
By the Associated Press.
GLOVERVILLE, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Announcement that he and Gonzales had been traded by New York to the Cincinnati in exchange for Groh came as a surprise to Burns here last night. Burns declared he was without knowledge of the negotiations and refused to comment on the trade.

SPORT SALAD by L. Davis

KING'S EX.

Billiken Quintet to Play 7 Games on Eastern Trip

Contests Billed in Chicago, Toledo, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and Rochester.

A two weeks' jaunt through the East during the Christmas holidays has been arranged for the St. Louis University basketball quintet. The tour will include stop overs in six cities in which seven games will be played. The team will leave St. Louis Dec. 27.

Two games will be played in Chicago—De Paul University and Loyola College being the Billiken's opponents. The team will then journey to Toledo at St. John's College at Toledo. A layover in Cleveland enables the Blue and White to compete with the strong St. Ignace team. The team will then journey to Buffalo for game with St. Conistius College and to Rochester, N. Y., for a battle with one of the Rochester colleges.

Coach O'Rourke predicts a formidable five for the Billiken school this season. There has been an average of 35 aspirants coveting on the three First Regiment Army courts for the last week. The candidates are under the supervision of O'Rourke, Joe McGinley and Capt. Weber.

There is an abundance of speed and a god bit of brawn among the crowd. That there will be much competition in the fight for positions can be seen from the willingness of the men to work hard and late. Several of the aspirants have had a large amount of "prep" school basketball experience.

Capt. Weber displays the same form this season that gained him the title of one of the greatest forwards in this section of the country. Weber will no doubt show even better this season as his support is reckoned to be 50 per cent stronger than last season.

Kenrick Stars on Squad.
Steel and Kelly, products of the 1919 Kenrick champions, are two speedy youngsters who possess an uncommonly high speed.

The boys will be a great strength to the Blue and White. "Dixie" Drace has been showing a dashing form but will have to be very careful to keep from making a large number of technical fouls.

Frank Kriwanek, a rangy lad, who formerly played with company teams of the 13th Infantry, and a speedy aggressive boy named Levin, who performed with the 2d Cavalry outfit when that quintet won the division army championship, are two very likely pickings for the Kenrick Quintet.

John J. McGraw of the New York Giants denied that a deal had been closed for an Indianapolis outfielder. At the time McGraw's denial was made by Business Manager E. Barrow that no new players had been taken on by the American League.

Other prominent majors here included Charles H. Ebbets of Brooklyn; Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh; Branch Rickey of St. Louis and Clark Griffith of the Washington Americans. Griffith announced the retirement of George McBride as manager of the Senators. There was a host of others hoping to be given a chance to reopen the question of "selection," a word more preferable to them than "draft." Their opportunity to voice a desire to select minor league players under the conditions of a day of 1921 probably will come today or tomorrow.

The opening session of the minors was late in convening and adjournment was taken until today after President Michael H. Sexton delivered his annual address and Secretary John H. Farrell submitted his report.

President Sexton, in addition to a plea for economy in management of the minors, urged that the whole section of the bylaw relating to the loaning and farming of players be revised and the addition of a stronger penalty clause for clubs violating the salary limit rule.

General conditions affecting the game throughout the country, President Sexton said, had materially improved and the evil of gambling had been reduced to a minimum.

Secretary Farrell's report showed that all of the 26 minor leagues launched last spring completed their respective seasons. Two league organizations, the Kentucky State League and the Inter-Provincial League, failed to get a start.

ST. LOUIS U. BOARD WILL DECIDE TONIGHT ON PIKER FOOTBALL DATE

The St. Louis University Athletic Committee will hold its annual meeting tonight, when plans for the 1922 football campaign will be made.

While no announcement has been made by any of the officials, it has been learned by the Post-Dispatch from an authoritative source that the Billikens will accept the Nov. 4 date offered them by the Pikers.

It is related that most of the Blue and White players are in favor of playing the Pikers again next year.

Penn Wrestlers Plan Tour.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—Plans are under way at the University of Pennsylvania for an invasion of the Central West this winter by the Quaker wrestling team. An invitation from the University of Iowa for a meet between the two institutions already has been received and it was said arranged should the trip receive the sanction of the authorities.

Pikers Elect 1922 Captain Tomorrow

STUDENTS, members of the faculty, alumni and friends of Washington University will gather at the Missouri Athletic Association tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock for the fifth annual "W. U. Piker" election.

Members of the 1921 football team, coaches and letter men of the St. Louis and county high schools will be guests of the union. The election of captain for the 1922 football team will be a feature.

James L. Lippincott, president of the Washington University Union, will be toastmaster. Other speakers will be Chancellor Fred A. Hall, Coach George L. Rider, Assistant Solicitor Applegarm and Davis, and Dean W. E. McCourt of the School of Engineering and Architecture.

PRINCIPAL TO OPPOSE SCHOLASTIC QUINETS

J. L. Christie, Principal athletic director, has announced the official schedule of basketball games for the coming season. In addition to meeting five local public high schools, the academy five will oppose four out-of-town schools and one county team.

The schedule follows:
Dec. 8, McKinley High, Dec. 13, Yeatman High, Dec. 17, Cleveland High.
Jan. 13, Central High, Jan. 17, Sol. McKinley.
Feb. 2, Cleveland; Feb. 4, Central Wesleyan College; Feb. 7, Collingwood High; Feb. 10, Central High; Feb. 13, Central Wesleyan; Feb. 21, McKinley; Feb. 25, Western Military Academy; Feb. 28, Granite City.

March 7, Maplewood High; March 11, Western Military Academy.
Capt. Ca. Weidman, who will play on the four will be played on the Principia floor. Games on Feb. 3, Feb. 17, 18 and 20. The team will play at every Friday night and Saturday afternoon game in Howard Gym.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR TITLE GOLF TOURNEYS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The 1922 national women's championship will be played on the course of the Greenbrier Club at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, the week of Sept. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 1922.

The national open championship will be held at the Skokie Club near Chicago, probably in July. Considering that the British open at St. George's course, Sandwich, will not be held earlier than the middle of June, the United States Golf Association event cannot very well be held earlier than the middle of June.

The amateur championship at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass., will be held the first or second week in September.

WINTER TAKES FOURTH PLACE IN PIN EVENT

P. Winter, with a total of 557, rolled into fourth place in the city scratch tournament on the Washington alleys last night. He had games of 246, 170 and 187, and a total of 557, was second among the individuals last night. In the doubles, a mark of 1994 for W. Kennedy and T. Cummings was high.

BUSINESS MEN'S A. C. BOXING SHOW IS OFF

The boxing show scheduled to be held under the auspices of the Business Men's A. C. at the Armory tonight, was postponed because of illness and injury to two boxers. Billy Bole announced that he was ill. Bole's manager said he was ready to box.

O'Dowd and Bogash Draw.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Mike O'Dowd, former world's middleweight champion, and Lou Bogash of Bridgeport, Conn., fought 12 rounds to a draw in Madison Square Garden last night. O'Dowd was the aggressor throughout. Both men weighed 160 pounds.

Tillman Beats Rolfe.

By the Associated Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 7.—Johnny Tillman of Minneapolis outboxed Jack Rolfe of Omaha here last night in a 10-round boxing contest, according to newspapermen. The men are welterweights.

Walters Ames Captain.

By the Associated Press.
AMES, Ia., Dec. 7.—Arthur Walters was elected captain of the 1922 Iowa State football team here last night. He has two more years of football competition.

Chicago to Play Georgia.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The University of Georgia was placed on the Chicago football schedule yesterday for a game here Oct. 7. Coach Alfonso Stark announced. This completes the Maroon gridiron program for next year and gives Chicago two inter-sectional games on the home field—Princeton and Georgia.

Nevada Offered Date.

By the Associated Press.
TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 7.—An offer guaranteeing all expenses if the University of Arizona football team will play the Cent College at San Diego on Dec. 28 was received by Coach McKale here yesterday. The tender was made by Ed Fletcher, who is the final decision as to whether or not the offer will be accepted will probably be given out today.

APPLEBY WINS TITLE.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Edgar Appleby last night won the New York State title in the 182 lb. class in a 12-round billiard championship by defeating Jacob Klinger in the final game of the tournament, 250 to 132. Appleby had an average of 14.6 for 15 innings, and made high runs of 86, 28 and 31.

Western Division Soccer Teams Are Still Protesting

Cuddy, Pa., and White Motors Continue to "Play" Game Before Executive Body.

Although the number of teams still remaining in the western division in the United States Football Association title series has dwindled down considerably, there seems to be no falling off in the number of protests. In fact, in one instance, a second round clash is still being "played" by members of the Executive Committee.

This is the clash between the White Motors of Cleveland and the Cuddy, Pa., originally scheduled for Nov. 6. Various sorts of protests and rulings have been made. Last Sunday, the eleven replayed the contest. The score was 0-0 when the referee was forced to halt hostilities because of interference from the crowd.

After the regulation 90 minutes the eleven were deadlocked. In the extra period a player of the Cuddy team threw the ball at a White Motor athlete, who dodged. Result—ball hit a spectator and there was a general mix-up. The referee could not clear the field, nor could police. Now Cuddy is protesting.

J. G. Barrett has instructed R. Butland of Cleveland to investigate. Two third-round clashes were played in the Illinois-Wisconsin division Sunday and both were protested. The Rangers protested the victory of the Pullmans, while the Bricklayers protested the victory of the Simmons team did not send its list of eligible players seven days in advance. W. R. Cummings has been asked to investigate.

Paulina to Use Best Team.
The Paulina of the Municipal League, according to Manager Golden, will present the strongest line they have shown this season when they meet the Ben Millers in the cup of the first round of the championship. It is not been handicapped by injuries. Fullback Bischoff, Halfbacks Burke and King and Forward Quinn have recovered from injuries which kept them out of the game during the past three weeks.

The Paulina have a number of experienced players and six of the eleven men are to face the Millers. The team has been playing well. Jules King, left halfback, was a member of the Scullin team for two years and Tommy Flavin, outside right, is another former Scullin player. Oster, Danaher, Monahan and Quinn were formerly with the Paulina.

The team has been training faithfully during the past two weeks.

Caledonians Ask $750.
The Caledonians of Detroit have asked Gillespie for a guarantee of $750 for the third round cup game, scheduled to be played at Gillespie's next Sunday. However, Gillespie has been advised by Secretary Barrett to guarantee only legitimate expenses.

The Caledonians this season are fourth in Division 1 of the Detroit and District League with two victories and two defeats. It is practically the same eleven that played the Scullins to a standstill in the Western final last year. The eleven to date has scored five goals and its rivals seven. Last Sunday, the "Caleys" downed Flint, 3 to 2.

Schaefer Accepts Defi.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Jacob Schaefer, who recently won the world's 182 lb. billiard championship from Willie Hoppe, yesterday formally accepted the former champion's challenge for a return match. The new championship posted $250 to bind the match and named Chicago as the place where it should be held.

O'Neill to Coach Columbia.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Frank J. (Buck) O'Neill, Columbia University football coach, has been re-engaged for another year.

Willard Sells Horse.

By the Associated Press.
LAWRENCE, Kan., Dec. 7.—Jesse Willard, former heavyweight pugilistic champion, yesterday sold his horse to a standstill in the brother of the illustrious Mar. of War came shortly after the purchase when his new standard bearer finished third in three-horse race. A demand for nullification of the sale contract was made, and upon its refusal by John. legal proceedings were begun and Sinclair announced that he considered Playfellow as no longer his property and that the horse would never again be seen in his colors. The horse did not race again all year.

TEE, FAIRWAY, AND GREEN BY CHICK EVANS

Golf's Hall of Fame.
Not until I had played my second shot onto the eighteenth green at Minikahda in that far-off, late afternoon in June, 1916, did Freddie McLeod, my playing companion, a former National open champion, congratulate me in the following words: "You should have won in 1915. You are now National open champion—the highest golf honor in the country."

Freddie is one of the most interesting golf stars of the country. I last saw Freddie—"the wee bit o' Scotch"—last summer at the National open in Washington, where he is professional at the Columbia Country Club, at Chevy Chase. My personal acquaintance with him began when he was employed at Midlothian, but his reputation had preceded him. He is only 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighs but 125 pounds. The distance and rhythm of his shots come as a surprise, when one considers the slight figure that provides the energy for them. His remarkable success ought to be a great encouragement to all men who fear they are lacking in the strength necessary to good golf.

Freddie was born in North Berwick, Scotland, in 1882. Perhaps it was the soundness of his early training in North Berwick that accounted for his early success in this country. I have been at that lovely spot in Scotland and I have seen the smallest of boys with golf clubs in their hands, and without doubt Freddie grew up in just that way.

I think that he must have come to this country somewhere around 1904, for the first notice of his appearance in competition was in 1905, in the Western open, at Cincinnati, when he finished fifth. For the next 10 years he was in the first ranks of professionals, with a good chance to beat any one of them. He won the national open in 1908 at Myopia, after a tie with Willie Smith, one of the great players of them all, and that very year Willie had set a new record at St. Andrews in the British open. It was a big triumph for Freddie. Like Robert Gardner, he won the national, but was never able to carry off the Western championship. Twice, however, he reached second place, once at Hinsdale and another time at Northmandie, St. Louis. He has won the United North and South championship at Pinehurst, the Florida open and many other events. Traveled 10,000 Miles in Year.

During these years he continually took part in all the open events and being in such demand for exhibition events, he traveled in all parts of the country. It was said that in 1915 he had traveled 10,000 miles to compete in golf tournaments. His professional engagements were a world of trouble. At Rockford, Ill., Midlothian, Chicago, San Antonio, St. Louis and New Orleans.

Freddie McLeod has a remarkable ability to shoot that only he can all the "pros" seem to be able to make work. Perhaps the others are afraid, for it requires bold and accurate hitting, and the slightest miss means a world of trouble. I heard him say at Baltusrol that he had not been off the course once in 72 holes. Aye, mon; Freddie McLeod is a grand little player. And now he proposes to lay tour-nament golf aside. The fact is that tournament golf is good for one's reputation, but bad for one's purse. It is the steady teaching side of golf that pays. Surely the club that employs him now is fortunate, for his experience will be invaluable to his pupils.

I agree with you to think, however, that Freddie McLeod has played in his last event. I have a feeling that when the big championships are again announced the pleasant little pioneer title holder will be there.

PLAYFELLOW CASE TO BE THRESHED OUT IN SUPREME COURT TODAY

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Whether Playfellow, full brother of Man o' War, the famous race horse, was a "cribber" and a "windbreaker" before being sold last summer for $100,000, or acquired those objectionable habits afterwards, came up for decision today in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn.

The question, which has focused widespread interest among racing men, was to be threshed out before Justice Callaghan in the suit of Harry P. Sinclair against James P. Johnson, owner of the Quincey stables, to recover the amount of the purchase price. The case, on yesterday's court docket, was postponed until today because of an overcrowded calendar.

Sinclair alleges that he bought Playfellow under the warranty by his former owner that the animal was "sound in wind and limb." The court will be asked to determine if the defects discovered constitute such unsoundness. The blow to Sinclair's hands and wallet was the result of the purchase when his new standard bearer finished third in three-horse race. A demand for nullification of the sale contract was made, and upon its refusal by Johnson, legal proceedings were begun and Sinclair announced that he considered Playfellow as no longer his property and that the horse would never again be seen in his colors. The horse did not race again all year.

STONE OFFERS $750,000 FOR RED SOX FRANCHISE

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Fred Stone, the comedian, said last night that he offered Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox, $750,000 as a purchase price for the local American League baseball club. A conference regarding a sale will be held today, it was said.

Frazee said he had not heard of the offer from Stone. It was said that the comedian had approached the Red Sox management through Frazee's representative.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The stock market today had its points of weakness and its points of strength, the latter predominating. It was not a general movement of prices, but rather a collection of special moves by the special reasons.

St. Paul and Pennsylvania moved heavily higher, St. Paul common selling at the lowest price in nearly 30 years. The weakness in these shares resulted from the railway list, among the off. Texas Co. was bought. On the other hand, Transcontinental Oil was sold.

Copper stocks were in demand for use as the smelting and since shares. As an effect to the strength in the metal group, the sugar stocks were quite weak, following another cut in the price of refined sugar and the report that the bill to dissolve the Cuban Commission has now passed both branches of the Cuban Congress.

One of the most important tests yet accorded the investment demand came with the Oregon Short Line $10,000,000 bond issue of $10,000,000. The issue was sold at 100 and the market for the first time was a first mortgage long-term bond put out under the new conditions that have arisen with the fall in the interest rate, the first yield of 4 1/2 per cent being the lowest return so far offered on a high-grade railroad security. Yet these bonds were over-subscribed the moment the books were opened and their price rose in the dealings on the curb from 94 1/2 to above 96.

Railroad issues increased all through the share list in the afternoon, but apart from the St. Paul stocks and bonds, Pennsylvania, and a very few of the industrials, there was no important weakness. The equipments, the shipping stocks and the motor and tire were swept off a point or more from their top.

The Bond Market.

With but comparatively few exceptions the bond market today stood at practically the same level which it struck the first two days of the week. The reaction in Liberty Bonds again was the most significant feature in the list. Victory Bonds remained around par.

French government bonds continued strong, the 7 1/4's getting up fractionally above yesterday's final quotation. The strength also in Japanese issues was noteworthy. Japanese 5's sterling loan advanced about a point when they got to 7 1/4, and the 5 1/2's sterling loan gained slightly. Norway 5's went up about a half point. On the other hand, City of Buenos 5's at 10 1/4 and Republic of Cuba 4 1/2's at 7 1/4, both lost ground.

The new Missouri, Kansas & Texas issue were very active, the adjustment is getting up about a point around 45, made a new high price and the prior lien 4's gained over a point, reaching 4 1/2. In contrast to the new high prices of a week or so ago, the railway list though generally firm, lacked the usual number of real tops for 1921. Many of the leaders changed little. Advances occurred in the Rock Island refunding 4's, Erie general 4's, New York Central 4's, Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4's and St. Louis & San Francisco income.

All these issues gained at least half a point. Lehigh Valley equaled their high for the year at 10 1/4 and Illinois Central 5's likewise were strong. The new Oregon Short Line 6's were the most significant feature in the list. This was the issue of $10,000,000 first mortgage, 6 per cent bonds, due July, 1944, guaranteed principal an interest by the Union Pacific. The bonds were over-subscribed soon after the opening of

WHEAT CLOSES LOWER ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—New weakness developed in the wheat market today during the early session. A leading local factor at this time was the report of a big bank failure in South Germany. The factor, however, commission houses took to the buying side. Grain prices were steady from 10:15 to 11:00, and July 1921 at $1.01 1/2. The market was followed by a moderate advance and then something of a rally. Later the weakness became more pronounced as a result of lower premiums here for red winter grade. Word of some export business at the Gulf of Mexico failed to act as an offset. The close was unsettled, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cent lower, with May 1921 at $1.11 1/2 and July 1921 at $1.01 1/2.

After opening 1/4 cent off to 1/2 cent lower, the market recovered and closed at 1/2 cent lower. The market was followed by a moderate advance and then something of a rally. Later the weakness became more pronounced as a result of lower premiums here for red winter grade. Word of some export business at the Gulf of Mexico failed to act as an offset. The close was unsettled, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cent lower, with May 1921 at $1.11 1/2 and July 1921 at $1.01 1/2.

MY FAVORITE STORIES
By IRVIN S. COBB

(One of a series of short funny stories by the celebrated American humorist which appear daily in the Post-Dispatch on this page.)

THE RIGHT PLACE TO SEND IT.

THREE times within the space of one week a vaudeville actor, well known socially on Broadway and better known professionally on the road, was escorted to the same police station and booked on a charge of intoxication. On each of these occasions friends who had learned of his embarrassing position bailed him out. Late Saturday night he was brought in again, with a policeman supporting him upon either side.

As they held him upright before the station-house desk the offender fixed a wavering eye upon the face of the Lieutenant who sat facing him.

"Elio, loot," he said, thickly, "got any mail here for me?"

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

ALMOST THE AVERAGE MAN.

At ten he arrives at his office.
Reads the papers with gasps of alarm.
And says he don't know why these dubs are so slow
In getting the world to disarm.
He runs through his mail in a few minutes.
Calls a friend or two up on the phone.
And remarks that perhaps we could deal with the Japs
If England would let us alone.
He languidly presses the buzzer.
That summons the managing clerk.
Whom he tells that he's sore on this talk of more war;
What is needed, he adds, is more work.

He goes to his lunch at twelve-thirty.
And over a porterhouse steak
He stoutly contends to a couple of friends
That this conference thing is a fake.
He says that all statements are boneheads;
They do nothing according to plan;
They are creatures of schemes and delusions and dreams;
What they need on that job is a man.
He takes his two friends to the office
To skim through the afternoon news,
And till four they discuss how they'd settle the muss
If they could trade places with Hughes.

To the boys at the club, in the evening,
He curses the folly of France;
He says she's afraid to promote the world's trade
By giving the Germans a chance.
If he were the other two Powers,
He'd make that frog army disband;
Then, with industry freed from oppression and greed,
The thing would be solved out of hand.
"We'll always have war," he announces.
"Till hatreds have all been forgotten."
Then he goes home to bed with a pain in his head,
And wonders why business is rotten.

The fact that his supposedly adored big brother was returning home from college that day had been carefully concealed from 16-year-old Tommy until he came back from school.

"Tommy," said his mother, "after her younger son had gone upstairs to wash his face and the elder had been concealed in the pantry, 'I have a big surprise for you.' 'I know what it is,' replied Tommy unconcernedly. 'Brother's back.' 'Why, how did you guess that?' 'Cause my bank won't rattle any more.'—American Legion Weekly.

11 U. S. SOLDIERS
HANGED IN FRANCE
COLONEL TESTIFIES

A. E. F. Executions Followed Courtmartial, Army Officer Says in Inquiry Into Watson Charges.

GEORGIA SENATOR
OFFERS PROOF

Presents Affidavit by Veteran Who Declared He Saw a Sergeant Hanged on Unjustified Charges.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Eleven members of the American Expeditionary Forces were hanged in France after conviction by a military courtmartial. Col. Walter E. Bethel, Assistant Judge Advocate-General of the army, testified today before the Senate committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France.

Col. Bethel, who was Gen. Pershing's chief legal adviser overseas, appeared before the committee after Senator Watson in an opening statement had presented a number of affidavits and letters from former soldiers to support his charges. "Did you ever see a gallows at Giverny?" Col. Bethel was asked. "Yes," he said, "one was erected there for execution of a convicted soldier."

It was at Giverny, according to information given to Senator Watson by former service men, that soldiers were hanged without trial. "I cannot vouch for anything except what these men have said," Col. Bethel testified. "I assume men would not tell me they were ready and willing to come here and testify regardless of consequences unless the facts were true."

Several Witnesses Summoned. A number of those mentioned in the Georgia Senator were summoned before the committee, including a man from a Fort Leavenworth (Kan.) penitentiary, convicted early in the war for violation of the espionage act, who Watson said, could give names of important witnesses as evidence of his own.

Col. Bethel informed the committee that the American military authorities had exclusive jurisdiction over the American army and the French never attempted to exercise jurisdiction in criminal cases. The first of the 11 executed, he said, was convicted of murder, assault, and the second, a negro soldier, for assault on a French woman 64 years old.

"Read Evidence Carefully." "In every case, where we recommended the death sentence," he said, "I read the evidence carefully to see that no mistake had been made."

The third and fourth executions, the Colonel said, also were for a death sentence, hanged after trial, being negroes. The witness testified that one was that of a negro soldier who murdered a French professor as the latter attempted to save a woman from a mob of rowdies; another was the hanging of a white soldier who attempted assault on an 8-year-old Belgian girl, then the hanging of a white soldier for murdering another white soldier, the crime being characterized by Col. Bethel as particularly atrocious.

The last case, the hanging of 11 negro soldiers together, was after conviction for assaulting a French girl and murdering her father as he attempted to save her. Col. Bethel said. He added that some of the convicted men admitted their guilt on the scaffold.

Perishing Approved 11 Executions. In all, he told the committee, death sentences were imposed, 6 perishing ordering 11 executed in disapproving the sentence in 3 cases. The other cases, the witness said, were reviewed at Washington and changed.

Chairman Brandegee of the special Senate committee announced that the proceeding was not an investigation of the Georgia Senator, but was directed to ascertain whether "officers of the United States army were murderers."

Senator Watson appeared before the committee immediately after adoption of a resolution requesting him to appear and testify in support of his charges.

"I made no indiscriminate charges," he said.
